He was on his way home to Canada from Malta, where he had piled up a record of 29 enemy aircraft destroyed and won the reputation of being one of the best fighter pilots in the R.A.F. Reports from La Linea, Spain, through Madrid Sunday night, said 15 persons were killed, 11 injured and a number missing out of the 32 who were aboard the plane, from Malta. Some of the 22 passengers were women and children. The plane carried crew of 10.

Information here was that Beurling's injuries were not such as to be permanently out of action.

Soviet Battle Now Raging for Nalchik Plateau

MOSCOW (AP)—The Red Army fought fiercely throughout Sunday night to defend the approaches to its vital military highway across the Caucasus Mountains after a retreat in the Nalchik area Sunday, but the midday communique said the Germans had been thrown back in various parts of Stalingrad.

Of the critical situation in the Nalchik area, the communique said only that "our troops fought heavy defensive engagements." Four enemy tanks, 12 troop trucks and five guns were reported smashed by Soviet artillery fire.

It was in the Nalchik area that the main German strength seemed to be gathering in the shadow of the towering Caucasus Mountains crags. The action in Stalingrad apparently had dwindled to small engagements in scattered sectors.

OL. COUNTRY—Though the bitter cold in the Caucasus is said to be killing Germans by the thousands, the Nazis still are pressing toward the stalwartly defended oil fields of this area.

Sunday night, the Russians moved aggressively against German positions in the scarred and blackened city and reported they had captured several buildings from the enemy. One Soviet guards unit was credited with killing 250 Germans and the city's defenders were described as "displaying immense courage and inventiveness."

10TH SIEGE WEEK ENDS

Today is the end of the 10th week of Stalingrad's siege.

Northwest of the city, Russian scouts broke into the German lines and killed about a company of German infantry, the midday communique said. Six pillboxes, three dugouts, one gun and five machine guns were smashed, it was said.

More than 300 Germans were reported killed in the fighting northeast of Tuapse, Black sea naval port, but the trend of the fighting there was not indicated.

GERMAN CLAIMS

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts, AP)—The Germans claimed today that their forces had captured the town of Alagir, cutting off the northern approach to the Ossetic military highway through the central Caucasus.

"As a result of the fall of this town," the Germans said, "the Ossetic military road leading from Ordzhonikidze to Kutaisi has been blocked to the enemy. Ordzhonikidze was bombed."

BEATEN TO DEATH IN INDIA—PO. Joseph H. Smith, R.C.A.F., who along with a British airman was killed last August in India when a hostile mob attacked a train. At his home in Kamloops, B.C., his mother said: "My son died on a train in India. I do not know the details but I know he died bravely."

Woman Alleges She Paid Tribute To Black Dragon

VANCOUVER (CP)—G. W. McPherson, Custodian of Japanese Property, testified today at the public inquiry into alleged activities of an affiliate of the Japanese Black Dragon Society in British Columbia, that a Japanese woman had told him she had been forced to pay tribute to Etsuji Morii, head of a Japanese liaison committee working with the British Columbia Security Commission, in order to obtain release of her husband from detention in the immigration sheds here.

McPherson said Maj. Austin Taylor, head of the commission which was charged with the removal of some 23,000 Japanese from the Pacific coast, had called him a "rumor monger" when he told him the story. McPherson said he had interviewed a Japanese couple and heard a story similar to that which he told Maj. Taylor.

Mr. McPherson was witness at the inquiry being conducted by Judge J. C. A. Cameron of Belleville, Ont., into allegations by the Vancouver News-Herald that an affiliate of the Black Dragon Society was active in British Columbia. The paper had linked Morii's name with the society.

NO REPLY

McPherson, who said he felt his "integrity was questioned" by Maj. Taylor's attitude, stated he forwarded to the Security Commission a report of his interview with the Japanese couple, but had received no direct reply.

However an R.C.M.P. employee reported to him on the co-operation which Morii, storm-centre of the probe, was giving the Security Commission in its task of evacuating Japanese.

FROM SECRET SERVICE

Elmore Philpott, News-Herald editor, told of information he said was received by the newspaper from a British secret service operator, the U.S. Federal Bureau of Investigation and a "Mr. X" in explaining circumstances leading to publication of the charges now under investigation.

The editor indicated both the British secret service and the F.B.I. have agents in British Columbia. He said a British secret service agent expressed to him "strongest disgust that Morii was in a key position" with the Security Commission.

7 Jap Ships Sunk By U.S. Subs; Carrier Set Afire

WASHINGTON (AP)—The sinking of seven enemy ships and the damaging of three others, including a converted aircraft carrier set afire, by American submarines during recent operations in the Pacific were announced today by the United States navy.

A communique reported that American submarines operating in the western and south Pacific had sunk one large passenger-cargo ship, two large tankers, two medium-sized and two small cargo ships, damaged and set afire one converted carrier, and damaged one destroyer and a medium-sized tanker.

These operations brought the total of enemy ships reported sunk or damaged by submarines in the Pacific since the outbreak of war to 133, of which 86 were sunk, 20 probably sunk and 27 damaged.

The last previous navy report on submarine action against the Japanese in the Pacific, communique number 151, issued Oct. 14, reported the sinking of five Japanese ships, including a heavy cruiser, plus one probably sunk and two damaged.

U.S. ON TOP

As a result of the devastating battle of Oct. 26, in which the Japanese now are reported to have suffered damage to seven big ships, United States naval forces appeared to have the run of the waters around Guadalcanal Island.

In what the navy described as the first detailed report of the naval-air battle east of the Stewart Islands one week ago, the enemy also was reported to have lost between 100 and 150 planes.

Japanese warships listed as damaged included two aircraft carriers, two battleships and three cruisers. This added one battleship and two heavy cruisers to the score previously reported.

Announced United States losses in the engagement are one carrier, as yet unidentified, and the destroyer Porter, with other ships reporting lesser damage.

SHELL JAP POSTS

As the battered Japanese armada retired from the scene, American warships swept into the area from which enemy vessels had bombarded the defenders of Guadalcanal and let go with a two-hour cannonading of Japanese positions on the island. Several buildings and boats and some artillery were destroyed by the shellfire, which was carried out last Friday (Solomon Islands time).

At the same time seven fighter planes raided the enemy base at Rakata Bay, northwest of Guadalcanal and shot down three Zero float planes and two biplanes and sent a fuel dump up in smoke.

Dive-bombers attacked enemy destroyers in the vicinity of the Russell Islands, about 30 miles northwest of Guadalcanal, Thursday night and again Friday morning, with inclusive results. One bomber is missing.

As the picture of the Oct. 26 battle began to take shape, it appeared U.S. navy fliers had dealt the enemy a severe pounding.

A detailed report reached Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the fleet and chief of naval operations, only Sunday from Vice-Admiral William Halsey, who recently took over command of that area.

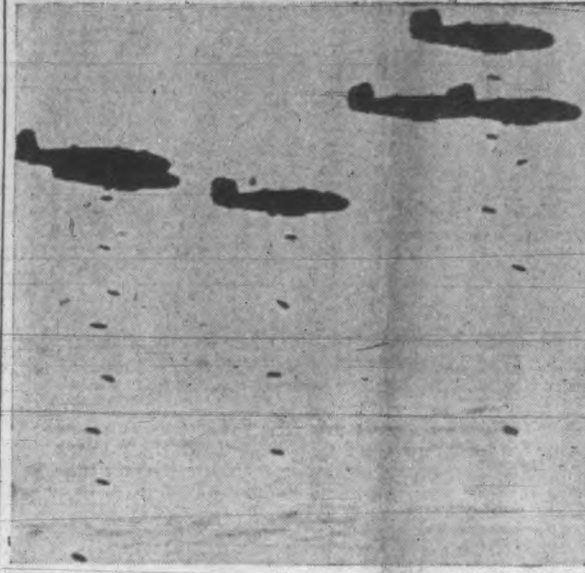

In this report, the navy announced Sunday night, the following damage to the enemy was detailed:

Four to six heavy bomb hits on an aircraft carrier of the Zuikaku class;
Two medium bomb hits on another aircraft carrier of the same class;
Two heavy bomb hits on a battleship of the Kongo class;
One heavy bomb hit on a second battleship;

Five medium bomb hits on a cruiser of the Tikuma class (second-class cruiser);
Torpedo and bomb hits on one heavy cruiser, and two torpedo hits on another heavy cruiser.

In addition, reports indicated the "definite destruction of more than 100 aircraft and the probable destruction of 50 others."

Bombs for Rommel

One of the most important phases of the battle of North Africa—aerial warfare. Bombs from a formation of "Mitchell" B-25 medium bombers head downward toward Rommel's Nazi forces and supply lines as R.A.F. and U.S. aircraft continue their shuttle relays that batter the enemy on the western desert. ## Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

LONDON (AP)—The grave declaration by President Ismet Inonu of Turkey that his country is nearer war than at any time since the world conflict started—from a cause he does not specify—may be taken as a warning to his people of the danger of an Axis attack and a notification to Hitler that the Turks are not asleep.

What the astute Inonu has in mind seems clear. Long ago I called attention to the likelihood that if Hitler were frustrated in his interlocking Caucasus and Egyptian campaigns, he likely would try to reach the Middle East either by attacking Turkey or through passing Turkey and making an assault on Syria with air and water-borne forces.

Frustration appears to be riding the Fuehrer's shoulders like the Old Man of the Sea. Undoubtedly he will make further desperate efforts to crack this Middle East nut, for it represents his only hope of winning the war.

ON THE SPOT

That certainly puts Turkey on the hot spot. It would make small difference whether Hitler attacked the Turks direct or by-passed them at the outset, for they could hardly avoid being involved in any event.

Of course, Turkey might have

Esquimalt Second In Island Division

Over the week-end Victoria came within $250,000 of its objective in the Third Victory Loan campaign. Vancouver Island must find an additional $1,000,000 before the campaign can close successfully.

Victoria officials hope to fly the victory pennant within the next two or three days as the tempo of subscription as reflected by the canvassers is maintaining an encouraging rate.

Oak Bay came within $260,000 of what was expected of it by noon today and Esquimalt unit became the second in the island division to go over the top, registering $200 over its objective at noon.

Official standing at noon was: Victoria $8,275,700, Oak Bay $805,000, Esquimalt $430,200, Saanich-Gulf Islands $488,900, Nanaimo $438,200, Alberni $392,500, Cowichan-Duncan $490,200, Courtenay-Comox $233,500, total $11,554,200.

Salt Spring Island with a quota of $25,000 is now over the top and the Saanich-Gulf Island unit anticipated that the lag in canvassing indicated by returns will be taken up in the last leg of the campaign. All units maintain an optimism, but for the final week are concentrating on the smaller subscriber, who must be relied upon to carry the campaign as all corporation subscriptions are now recorded.

2 Nazi Supply Ships Blown Up

By EDWARD KENNEDY

CAIRO (AP)—A concentration of Axis forces on Nazi Marshal Rommel's left flank was pocketed in a bold week-end night thrust by Australian troops who smashed across coastal sand dunes with bayonets flashing, and up until Sunday night the enemy had made no real move to break out, although one appeared imminent.

(Cairo reports to London newspapers said the trapped Axis troops numbered several thousand, most of them Germans.)

The Axis force was caught Friday night by the desert-wise Australians, who crossed the railroad running near the coast in the face of considerable enemy opposition.

The Aussies wiped out Axis nests and took prisoners as they surged forward, often relying on their bayonets to overcome opposition.

The enemy concentration was not wholly encircled, but an iron ring was forged around it with sufficient completeness to make its position untenable.

New Blows Dealt Axis Supply Lines

British and United States airmen meanwhile got in heavy new blows against Axis communications.

American headquarters announced a destructive raid on the Axis air base at Maleme, in Crete, by heavy bombers and the R.A.F. said two enemy merchant ships, the first to dare the north African passage since three vessels were sunk last Monday, were blown to pieces Sunday by British torpedo planes.

A communique said fires and explosions were observed in the target area at Maleme, from which air support has been going to Rommel.

American fighter pilots, escorting Allied fighter-bombers, broke up a formation of Nazi Messerschmitts in a dogfight over the Egyptian battle area, this announcement said.

Other airmen shot up enemy landing grounds and dispersal areas on the desert and R.A.F. medium bombers pounced on a concentration of 30 enemy trucks, starting half a dozen fires among the fuel and munitions-laden vehicles.

British authorities also reported a direct hit on an enemy shrapnel shelter in the desert and hits on grounded Axis planes.

The British torpedo planes sank the two merchantmen Sunday out of a convoy trying to cross the Mediterranean with an escort of destroyers and patrol boats. They were first spotted at dusk Saturday and the initial striking force arrived just after midnight and sank one ship. The other was sent to the bottom at dawn.

On the desert battle front, Rommel's main armor was west of the position encircled by the Australians.

In other part of the desert also were great British armored formations ready to deal their own thrusts.

Clearly illustrating the air superiority held by the Allies, the American communique said that except for the lone brush with the formation of Messerschmitts, "other fighter-bomber missions and fighter sweeps failed to encounter enemy planes." In the first striking force the R.A.F. sent against the convoy in the Mediterranean was a sergeant-pilot of the R.C.A.F. who comes from Albion, N.Y.

"I let go with my torpedoes very close, closer than I should have," he said. "But I knew that if I missed I wouldn't get another crack."

The rear gunner said a column of brilliant orange flame shot a thousand feet into the air. A crew of another plane said they nearly were thrown from their seats by the force of the blast, indicating the ship must have been carrying ammunition.

Another R.A.F. force going out at dawn attacked the second ship in similarly successful manner.

While this was going on the 8th Army's operations were proceeding successfully against the enemy along the El Alamein line.

The encircling manoeuvre was disclosed in a general headquarters communique, which said that up to Sunday night the British forces were holding their positions and had smashed all enemy efforts to break out.

Aussies Struck On Narrow Sector

The area in which the Axis forces were pocketed was said to lie between the coastal railway and the shore—a sector only a few miles wide.

The communique indicated the trap had been closed sometime Saturday, for it said that Rommel's men had attacked Saturday night in an unsuccessful effort to relieve an situation.

"Our infantry held their ground, but some enemy tanks succeeded in joining his infantry in their isolated position," the bulletin added. "No attempt to break out was made in the hours of daylight, Sunday."

By contrast with the wide activity of the Allied air forces, Axis planes attempted only one bombing raid on British forward troops, Sunday, headquarters said.

"Allied fighters intercepted the force and the enemy jettisoned his bombs on his own troops," declared the communique. "Our fighters shot down seven dive-bombers."

A German fighter was reported shot down later, bringing enemy losses for the day to eight planes, against one Allied fighter reported lost.

Italian Command Claims a Success

ROME (From Italian Broadcasts, AP)—The Italian high command claimed today that 100 Australians and 40 trucks had been captured in a "favorable development" in the northern sector of the Alamein front.

A communique also reported that a landing attempt behind Axis lines in Egypt had been frustrated Sunday night.

The Australians were said to have been captured in a counter-attack by Axis forces.

"Fresh thrusts supported by intense artillery fire against our positions in the same (northern) sector were completely stopped," the war bulletin said.

Myfanwy's Paintings On Exhibition for Red Cross

"Miss Gill German, Ottawa." The rich red color of the costume, the blonde hair and light flesh tones of the face stand out simply and strong against a dark background in a well constructed composition.

"Air Vice-Marshal Stevenson." A drawing full of awareness of the keen, alert and energetic character of a distinguished sifter.

"Gaby." Portrait of the artist's grandmother, Mrs. E. L. Watts. In a fine movement of flowing color the painter has expressed the likeness and spirit of her sitter with tenderness and understanding.

By J. DELISLE PARKER

Brilliance of execution, personal interpretation and freshness of vision characterize the exhibition of paintings by Myfanwy Spencer Campbell, opening today and lasting until Nov. 7.

This notable show of 37 oil paintings, pastels and drawings is held in the new art gallery at David Spencer Limited under the auspices of the Red Cross, to which the entire proceeds will go, including commissions paid for many of the portraits on display.

The exhibition is a notable event for several reasons. It combines the first important show by this young British Columbia artist, who is destined to much success in a difficult branch of art, and the opening of a long-needed local exhibition gallery worthy of important displays.

After an interval of some years, following a small exhibition at the Vancouver Art Gallery, this talented painter has been inspired during the past summer to a remarkable manifestation of artistic energy. Her production, both in quantity and quality, is such as might well arouse admiration of painters of more mature age and reputation.

Although following mainly a traditional form of painting, the artist is pursuing her own personal predilection, unencumbered by too much formal art-training or by theories based on the achievements of well-known masters, modern or past. This healthy attitude probably accounts for the fresh vitality in her work, sustained by competent technique.

Already the picture of "Trude," a portrait of Mrs. James Munro, has received the honor of winning the greatest number of votes for the most popular painting in the recent annual B.C. Artists' exhibition at the Vancouver Art Gallery. For the first time this experiment of a local picture "Gallup Poll" was held this year and met with keen approval. It is significant that the vote went in favor of a young Victoria artist whose present display substantiates her worth in pictures even finer in conception and color. "Myfanwy," as the artist wishes to be known professionally, has chosen to depict people in preference to the more commonly-se-painting has also a fine lower foreground of expressive color, reminiscent somewhat of Goya, showing the curled-up legs of the boy seated on the grass.

"Miss Sara Spencer, Victoria." With precision of statement and in fine design the artist has painted this portrait with much originality and rhythmic feeling. The dignity and poise of the head are especially notable.

The oil paintings include successful portraits of Elizabeth Molson, Margaret Molson, Miss Peggy Walton, Mrs. Tom Austin, young O'Donnell Redfern (who is the son of Sir Shuldham and Lady Redfern of Ottawa), Mr. F. E. Winslow of Victoria, and Lubka Kolesa.

Especially notable is a large impressive picture of Gertrude Huntly Green, in which the head and shoulders are rendered with skill and dignity. There are also striking portraits of the artist's mother, Mrs. Will Spencer, of Miss Diana, Spencer of Vancouver, Mrs. Hobart Molson of Victoria, Miss Laura Magrath, Miss Gill German of Ottawa, Miss Barbara Spencer of Vancouver, Miss Pamela Kerr of Ottawa, Miss Sara Spencer of Victoria, and "Brooks."

LaGuardia Calls Mussolini 'Cur'; Broadcasts to Italy

NEW YORK (AP)—Continuing his short-wave talks in Italian beamed at Italy, Mayor F. H. LaGuardia Sunday challenged the Fascist regime to deny his charges of suffering and German domination in the Kingdom.

The peppery mayor declared Rome could answer him only with sarcasm on his "poor" Italian pronunciation.

"What kind of an answer is it that they give, in saying that my Italian pronunciation is not good?" LaGuardia asked.

"That's not important. What is important is the well-being and future of 50,000,000 Italians."

The mayor then posed 10 questions which he dared "that little cur Mussolini" to answer. They sought to know how many Italian soldiers had died, how much food had been "taken from the mouths of Italians to be sent to Germany?"

Other questions concerned money which Count Galeazzo Ciano, Mussolini's son-in-law and foreign minister, allegedly had sent abroad "as a safeguard against revolution and exile. He also asserted Germans now controlled the Italian ministries of foreign affairs, war, navy and propaganda, and dared Rome to deny that "that pig, Hitler, has promised the snake, Laval, the self-same colonies and territories which he had promised to Mussolini."

Will Dakar Be Another Singapore?

It is about 3,200 airline miles from Dakar on Africa's western bulge to El Alamein in Egypt's desert, but the shots that started the Allied offensive in North Africa a week ago put this Vichy French outpost on the alert.

Dakar will remain on the alert as long as there is fighting on the African continent, for this cosmopolitan tropical-European city with one of the best harbors of Africa is a rich prize of war.

Her submarine bases and naval arsenal protected by great breakwaters and the Cape Vert Peninsula which suspends Dakar like a tropical fruit into the Atlantic, can be of inestimable value to whichever side controls them.

NAZI INFILTRATION

Ostensibly Vichy France has kept her Dakar fleet and harbor facilities strictly neutral, but many observers feel the Axis has had the better of the infiltration into the city's 120,000 population.

Recurrent suspicions that Axis submarines and planes are basing on Dakar have resulted in recurrent campaigns in Allied countries urging this outpost be seized.

The British and De Gaulle Fighting French troops tried it once in a poorly prepared assault in July, 1940, which Vichy's troops and fleet repelled.

DARLAN VISIT

Life in Dakar has been building up to a crisis for weeks under Axis propaganda blasts charging the Allies with preparing to move in. Last week Admiral Darlan inspected Vichy's fleet there, exhorted the sailors and soldiers to stand firm against all assaults and renewed promises to defend this corner of the late French empire.

Life in Dakar has been growing steadily worse, even without all these alarms of encroaching war. The 20,000 European residents, augmented by French military officials, are beginning to look shabby at the city's race track and stadium.

Most of them wear their whites most of the year. Temperatures range from the high 60's in the

Board Sets Prices of Lamb For All Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Maximum wholesale and retail prices for carcasses, sides and cuts of lamb have been fixed for all parts of Canada in an order issued by the Prices Board foods administration.

Three schedules attached to the order specify the top wholesale prices of carcasses and sides in each of the 15 Canadian zones for, respectively, fresh and frozen lamb in the September-December period; frozen lamb from January to August, inclusive, and fresh lamb from winter-fed lambs when the meat is sold in the period January to June, inclusive. The zones referred to are those set up in connection with the fixing of maximum prices for beef.

Sales during the period January to August, inclusive, of carcasses or sides of fresh lamb obtained from lambs born in the same year the sale is made, or in December immediately preceding, are exempted from the price ceiling.

A board statement said the structure of seasonal maximum prices introduced by the new order is designed to be permanent, and will therefore give lamb feeders some assurance in anticipating prices, so they may plan their operations with a degree of security.

A uniform wholesale price ceiling within each of the 15 zones will be in effect, and retailers will be limited to a specified make-up.

Wholesale beef prices already are controlled by the board on a similar basis, with adjustments to compensate producers for higher winter feeding costs. Prices of cuts and other beef portions are applied on the basis of the 15 zones across the Dominion for which the prices are specified.

Nazi Factories, Transport Hit In R.A.F. Raid

LONDON (AP)—Bombers and fighters carried the war to Germany and German occupied territory again at the week-end following raids on southeastern England Saturday by 50 German bombers in the biggest Nazi daylight attack since the 1940 battle of Britain.

Industrial objectives in northern France were blasted or shot up by the R.A.F. fliers and U.S. pursuit pilots hit a freight train near Berck-Sur-Mer, France.

The Germans paid with nine planes for a raid on Canterbury in the Saturday attacks and lost another four in low-level attacks on three trains during the night.

Three of the four planes shot down during the night fell to the blazing guns on the Spitfire flown by FO. George Pepper, D.F.C., of Belleville, Ont., who is rated one of Britain's best night fighters.

FACTORIES STRAFED

Factories and industrial objectives in northwest Germany and Belgium were raided Sunday morning and afternoon, the air ministry announced. Seven planes were lost, three of them bombers. Many hits were observed.

Canadians took part in the offensive operations as well. R.C.A.F. bombers were in action over northwestern Germany in daylight and one R.C.A.F. machine took part in intruder operations over northern France during which the locomotive of a train near Creil was blown up.

CAME AT DUSK

Roaring in on Canterbury at dusk Saturday the raiders dropped bombs in a haphazard fashion and machine-gunned a working-class area and then a shopping street.

"They chose a time when the streets would be full of shoppers," said the air ministry.

In the attack on the trains only one man was injured, but at Canterbury 10 bodies had been recovered Sunday and a number of persons were still missing. Seven of the known dead had been on a bus which was bombed and machine-gunned.

The R.A.F. ranged over many miles to meet the attack, and there were violent battles at sea.

BATTLE AT SEA

A member of an R.A.F. fighter squadron which destroyed five of the day raiders at sea, said, "there was a terrific battle over the Straits. There seemed to be FW-190's everywhere."

During the activity an air raid alarm was sounded in the London area.

The Dean of Canterbury, Very Rev. Dr. Howlett Johnson, described the attack as being "very lively," and expressed the opinion the Cathedral city was hit because it figured in the news as one of the places visited by Mrs. Roosevelt.

"I am quite sure the German bombers had taken notice of the places Mrs. Roosevelt had visited, and that they thought if she can call on Canterbury it had better have another dose," he said.

GARAGE TRAPS 4

Six persons were killed in one street in which nearly every house was wrecked. A direct hit trapped four persons in a garage. One witness said a formation of three raiders flew down the main street at roof-top height, machine-gunning the Saturday crowds.

Saturday night's London alert was of short duration, and no enemy activity was reported in the immediate vicinity.

The nine Nazi planes shot down comprised the biggest daylight toll taken over England since May 8, 1941, when 12 were downed in the same areas.

9 Hungarians to Die

LONDON (CP)—A military court in Hungary has sentenced nine persons to death and others to long prison terms for "sabotage, assassination and the use of arms against the public security," a Reuters dispatch from Vichy said today.

England's pencils, which no longer have erasers or gold lettering, must now be sharpened by the old-fashioned penknife method, to save wood.

Letters to Editor

Correspondents are reminded to use one side of the paper only, to write legibly, and to keep their communications within a reasonable length. A short letter, with a point convincingly emphasized, has a better chance of publication than one with labored platitudes.

MORE DONORS NEEDED

I have just returned from St. Joseph's Hospital after giving my fifth donation to the blood bank. I was appalled to learn that I was the only donor who had been there for the last four days, and feel that I must draw the attention of Victorians to the pressing need for these blood donations.

All we are asked to do is to give, in comfortable and peaceful surroundings, a little of our blood which may go to save the life of another human being. Is this too much to ask? In many parts of the world today, men are shedding their blood for us—many are giving their lives—and yet in this city of 70,000 odd inhabitants it is hard to find a handful of people who are willing to help in building up a supply of plasma for use in an emergency.

I feel that perhaps it is dread of the operation which keeps many people away from the blood bank, and would therefore like to assure anyone who reads this that the whole process is absolutely painless, and in some cases even beneficial.

To those to whom rationing is a serious business, there is the added cup of tea or coffee which is given to the donor afterwards!

Aussies in Russia

MELBOURNE (CP)—A Royal Australian Air Force formation is based in Soviet Russia, where it is helping to protect Allied convoys to Murmansk and co-operating with the Soviet air force in hunting enemy surface raiders, Air Minister Arthur S. Drakeford announced today.

The unit is commanded by Wing Cmdr. Grant Moore Lindeeman of Sydney who has just been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

(This is the first disclosure that Australian fliers are in Russia. Britain last Tuesday announced that R.A.F. coastal command pilots and aircraft had been stationed in Russia since last summer to help United Nations convoys, run the gauntlet of German air and sea attacks.)

Face to Face

secret meeting between Britain's Prime Minister and nearly 3,000 of Britain's coal miners and mine managers furnished an example in domestic diplomacy and hard-headed common sense for all the free world to admire and emulate. It is no detraction from the importance and significance of this departure from established tradition to say that the present state of one of the country's major industries required heroic measures to ward off something approaching a national calamity—not only as affecting the country's war effort in vital particulars but also as affecting internal economy in its widest sense.

And it requires no profound knowledge of British psychology to realize what that journey to London, many making it for the first time in their lives, meant to those men who work in the bowels of the earth for long hours and for not a great deal of pay. It must have resembled the miniature "invasion" such as the people of the metropolis experience on the day of the "cup final" of peace days. But it was different for those who made this trip: each pocketed three pounds for expenses and loss of time from their labors.

To be sure, Mr. Churchill had a serious message for his visitors, many of whom, of course, knew its portent. But they got it first-hand from the political head of the nation. That was an experience in itself. It was more than that; they could ask all the questions they liked—and obtain the right answers. And one of the newspapermen who was present has described the scene in that secret meeting place as one that will live long in the memories of all who witnessed it. Well may that be so.

Britain this year faces a coal shortage of 11,000,000 tons, a combined threat to industry and to the minimum comforts of war workers and the populace as a whole. Not all of this huge deficiency may be made up as a result of this heart-to-heart talk between miners and Prime Minister. But it is safe to predict that such an exchange of mutual confidences will create a new atmosphere throughout the mining localities of the country. To every pit-head and down into the workings of every mine will go the word which Mr. Churchill gave to his representative audience. Moreover, this new approach to an old problem may be the beginning of a better appreciation of the miner's calling, its hourly risks and the all-too-splendid reward at the week's end.

From the threat of the great strike—happily averted before complete dislocation action was ordered—of March, 1911, down through the years, coal mining operations in Great Britain have suffered many shocks. In spite of the numerous "adjustments" in the interval, especially the recent settlement with the royalty owners, the position of the industry, as understood by government and people in this fourth year of the world conflict, is now described as "desperate." It is acknowledged that the older miners are doing their best to speed output; but a larger body of younger men in the twenties have been fundamentally ill-conditioned by a lifetime of unemployment, and do not seem able to grasp the gravity of the situation, or to exert that extra energy on which greater production depends. Human nature being what it is, incidentally, miners who are fathers of families are not unnaturally distressed, after a laborious week's work, to discover that they have brought home considerably less in wages than their young daughters—or especially their young sons—who reveal no visible signs of having overstrained themselves.

These are matters which do not lend themselves to quick redress, particularly when the pressing need is for an acceleration of the wheels of war industries, but Saturday's conference in London most assuredly will have a widespread beneficial effect on the morale and determination of the men who mine the all-essential coal. They are now in possession of the facts of the case; and these facts necessarily must be understood in all their implications if the greater production of "black diamonds" is to have the desired effect on the nation's war effort. The British miner, in the last analysis, is an honest realist.

Warning to Berlin?

EVIDENTLY PRESIDENT ISMET INONU of Turkey does not think the totalitarian gang will defeat the United Nations. He told the Turkish National Assembly yesterday that "political institutions founded on domination by a single power cannot be maintained." The quoted phrase, of course, does not transgress against the young republic's meticulously-observed neutrality. It nevertheless projects into contemporary thought one of those hypotheses which can be applied to a visible condition.

More serious, however, was the Turkish statesman's declaration of his belief that his country is nearer war at this stage of the universal conflict than at any time since it began more than four years ago. One needs no clairvoyant gift to understand why he expressed himself. Not will the Inonu state of Turkish danger, coupled with the oblique reference to Hitlerian philosophy, deceive the Fuehrer. It was not intended so to do. But the men of Berlin have reached a point in their bid for world domination at which the course of events must be causing them grave apprehension.

In other words, failure to present Stalin—grad to the German people as the great prize of 1942—which they were unequivocally promised more than a month ago—plus the gloomy outlook for the Axis campaign in Egypt, must be followed by some compensating military victory elsewhere. Teutonic morale obviously needs a tonic. And the country over which General Inonu presides is now becoming an increasingly stronger obstacle to the fulfillment of the old Bismarckian "Drang-nach-Osten" dream. The people of the new Turkey, moreover, have not forgotten the late Kemal Ataturk's legendary last words: "For as long as you can honorably do so, keep Turkey out of war; but if you must go to war, don't fight on Germany's side, you lose if you win."

On numerous occasions President Inonu and his ministers have proclaimed Turkey's intention of preserving her neutrality; voiced in equally vehement terms have been their warnings to any potential invader. The Turks will fight to protect their political and territorial integrity. Despite the preservation of outwardly friendly relations with Germany, however, Hitler knows that Berlin's economic treaties with Ankara have meant little or nothing. On the other hand, Britain has delivered the goods under her trading arrangements with Turkey. For example, she has been supplying spare parts for Heinkel aircraft in the Turkish air force. And the irony of this situation lies in the fact that these supplies came from Axis aircraft brought down in the African desert.

Another factor which naturally is worrying the Fuehrer is the knowledge that in the last two years, aided by Britain and lease-lend supplies from the United States, the fighting strength and armored equipment of the Turkish military machine has been growing from month to month. Small wonder that President Inonu pointedly expressed himself on the subject of the political aspirations of "a single power."

Official Action Would Help

VICTORIA'S VICTORY GARDEN BRIGADE must have been much encouraged by the advice given to the people of Vancouver last week by Hon. J. G. Gardiner, federal Minister of Agriculture, a rural realist who has seen for himself what Britons have done to reduce their dependence upon outside sources for their food supply. In response to concern expressed to him by a committee of the mainland City Council by reason of the threatened shortage of vegetables—caused, in the main, by labor problems on the farms of the Fraser Valley—he suggested that city dwellers cultivate their own back gardens and produce as far as possible their own crops of domestic edibles. But the civic fathers did not seem to be particularly impressed by the idea or by the minister's obviously sound advice.

Vancouver, however, is not alone in this respect. Victoria's proponents of Victory Gardens have found it an uphill struggle to obtain the co-operation so essential to insure success. With the removal of Japanese truck gardeners from this and other coast areas, coupled with the shortage of labor which has presented every community with difficult rural problems, the fresh vegetable shortage will be a serious matter next spring. If Britons, in the midst of bombing and intensive production of war materials of every description, can find the time and the energy to cultivate every little corner of land—even their window boxes—to produce extra food, surely Victoria, blessed with so many gardens and vacant lots, can make the effort suggested by Mr. Gardiner. Both health and morale would profit by this added contribution to the solution of what is certainly a growing food problem.

Our own City Council is gladly lending such support as lies within its power to strengthen the program of Victoria's Victory Garden Brigade. But leadership in a case of this kind, and the argument may apply to the case of Vancouver as well, must come from the provincial Minister of Agriculture, Hon. K. C. MacDonald, whose department could give invaluable advice and encouragement to those who naturally are eager to do their bit on the home garden front. The time for action is now. A conference with Dr. MacDonald ought to produce results in short order.

Belated Alibi

WHEN BERLIN ANNOUNCED THAT artillery bombardment would be substituted for the costly frontal assaults on Stalingrad, it also boastfully declared that "the strategic objective of the German offensive, namely the Volga, was reached long ago." The German spokesman did not mention that the Nazi hold on the Volga is tenuous so long as Russia holds Stalingrad. Nor did he explain the fact that Hitler suffers a dangerous psychological defeat so long as his utmost might has failed to subdue the city named after Josef Stalin. We nominate the Battle of Stalingrad as this war's second contribution to the list of decisive battles in world history. The Battle of Britain was the first. The coming Battle of Germany will be the third.

It is only a few years since he was getting his kite down out of a tree. The other day he brought his riddled plane in on one wheel, after making our enemies sick.

THINKING PEOPLE

ONE OF THE EDITORS of the London Economist, a lady, has come to America and tried to get down for Americans a photograph of the British mind. This is not easy. It is never easy at any time to say what a nation is thinking and still harder to say what it is feeling. However, this lady has done her best and the results are interesting.

The most interesting fact about the British people—for their courage is well known by now—is that they are thinking deeply. They have awakened from 20 years of drugged sleep, like the rest of us, and are asking themselves what is wrong with them, with their society, with the world in general that they should be at war again 20 years after the last war, and in much more danger than they were then. They are thinking deep down into the whole structure of their society; and not only their society but into their religion, which is more important finally than any social arrangements.

There is no space here to explain what the British people are thinking, as set down by this British writer, but the important thing is that they are thinking. And so far as I can discover they are thinking far more deeply and intelligently than we are on this side of the water.

Indeed, the great social upheaval now in progress in Britain, the disintegration of the old caste system, the complete collapse of old-time imperialism, the eclipse of the old-time imperialists, makes a total mock of such utterances as those of Life, which apparently judges Britain by some prewar guide-book, with pretty pictures of molding castles, or by the novels of Dickens, Thackeray and the Brontës.

FACING IT

IT IS QUITE OBVIOUS, by the actual laws in effect, that Britain has gone much further in the direction of the American New Deal, in all kinds of social reform, than has the United States. Probably it needed reform more, because living standards were lower and inequalities greater, but reforms just the same have taken place. And now it is obvious that the British people are facing the realities of the world revolution more directly than the North Americans because they have seen them directly, in the form of bombed cities and dead children in the streets.

So far as I can make out, this thinking comes from the people themselves, where it should come from, and not from the top. At the top are many relics of the old world that is gone and it is such exhibits, doubtless, that confuse the editors of Life. Mr. Churchill persists in maintaining about himself and his fellows who belong to an age now dead and this is a matter of deep distress to many Britons who know that he is the best possible leader, but don't like some of his friends; and Britain unquestionably is handicapped today by the lack of an opposition in Parliament, to keep the government on its toes.

The wonderful panacea of a National government, without opposition, the beautiful dream of every man working selflessly for the state and without political interest, is seen in Britain to have its grave drawbacks. A good opposition would make a better government there, as it would in Canada, if we could only get one; as it is doing in the United States through the efforts of such able opposition leaders as Wendell Willkie. But the fundamentally important thing is not the immediate political machinery but the soul of the people. On that score we need not worry about the British. If we could be as sure about everyone else, including ourselves, as we can be about them, there would be little need to worry about the future.

THOUGHT

AND IF THE PEOPLE of North America were really thinking deeply these days our worries would be a lot lighter. There are evidences of thought in many directions. Life's recent outburst against the British Empire was an evidence of thought, though misguided, and it brought back a thundering reply from most of the American press, which is another evidence.

But can we say that the great mass of our people are really thinking deeply? Or should we rather say that the great mass of the people are uttering catchwords and slogans, and nodding wisely and saying that there will be great changes in our society, without ever thinking what these changes will mean to them in a changing manner of life, in taxes, in sacrifice?

Can we be sure that the fellow on the street corner who says that the world is going to be different after the war, and better, really knows what he wants, apart from higher wages and a better time? Can we even be sure that politicians who talk about the more abundant life and the brave new postwar world have an idea how they are going to make it? And do Canadians as a whole realize for a moment that if the world is to be re-established and peace assured, we shall have to give up many of our fixed ideas, many of our tariff-protected industries, many of our old freedoms?

If we were in Britain, with our cities ruined, we would think all right. We would not think in slogans and catchwords. We would insist on knowing what is wrong with us, our nation, our Empire, our western civilization. We would think furiously if the bombs were falling. But out here, so far away, it is easier to mutter platitudes and hope that something will turn up after the war.

Something will turn up certainly. But if we don't look out it may be the wrong thing. It is quite possible for us, and quite simple, to establish a society much worse than that which existed before the war. And we will do so if we don't think our way into something better, all of us.

SIDE GLANCES

"His wife thinks this warden's job is another excuse to get out, like lodge meeting—serve her right if we did have a little air raid some night!"

Newton's Tercentenary

Amid fighting the war, scientists, both on this continent and in England, are marking the tercentenary of the birth of Sir Isaac Newton. His contributions to optics, mechanics, astrophysics and mathematics had such a radical effect upon scientific progress that they are fundamental to our whole civilization. Newton's great work was the Principia, pronounced the greatest production of the human mind. In evaluating the impact of Newton upon the world, the new British scientific quarterly, Endeavour, recommends to scientists today Newton's "rules of reasoning," formulated in 1687, saying: "Strict adherence to them would swiftly dispel the miasma of unfounded hypothesis that still from time to time vitiates the atmosphere of science." The world at large may be similarly admonished.

LUMBER FOR HOME OF TOMORROW

From Port Alberni Advocate

After the war is over and Canada turns again to the great home-building program interrupted by the world conflict, much will have been learned from wartime experience with lumber.

Not the least of lessons being taught is how to use lumber more efficiently. For example, a major use of specially treated lumber today is in the huge timbers now replacing steel girders in war plants. In many plants where moisture reaches the near-saturation point, in naval docks and other structures, millions of feet of lumber, treated with a dry-salts preservative, are releasing steel and other critical metals for the war effort.

When the time comes again to build low cost homes, architects will translate their wartime experiences with treated lumber into more permanent construction for dwellings.

Joists and sills, close to the ground and dampness, will be protected against termites and decay. Likewise, sub-flooring where the pests first launch their attacks on the upper structures of the home will be protected. Window sash and frames, among the first parts of the home to be affected by decay, will call for lumber protected by special treating methods.

Even in these days, when conservation and economy is important, home repairs are being made with a view to longer life.

A step rotted out, porch flooring or supports eaten away by termites, can be replaced with treated lumber to insure against an early recurrence of the fault.

The post-war home will be designed with all the beauty and economy that comes with the use of lumber while at the same time having the permanence heretofore gained only through the use of other building materials.

Nanaimo Pioneer, Mrs. Glaholm, Dies

Funeral services for Mrs. M. Glaholm, first white child born at Nanaimo, who died Saturday at the age of 87, were conducted this afternoon by Rev. T. W. Reed at D. J. Jenkins Ltd. Chapel, interment at Nanaimo Cemetery.

Mrs. Glaholm was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John McGregor, who arrived at Nanaimo from England in 1849 on the sailing vessel Harpooner. Her father opened the first coal mines at Fort Rupert.

Born in a log cabin on the Nanaimo waterfront, on the site near the Civic Arena, Mrs. Glaholm could recall Indian uprisings in the vicinity.

Mrs. Glaholm was guest of honor for many years at Native Sons and Daughters celebrations in Nanaimo. She was one of the first members of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Her home was on Chapel Street.

Surviving are one son, William, Nanaimo; two daughters, Mrs. D. B. Edgell, Nanaimo, and Mrs. J. Young, Vancouver. Mr. Justice Gordon Sloan is one of seven grandchildren living in B.C.

A.R.P. Understrength With 3,000 Workers

While strength of the Victoria A.R.P. organization stood at approximately 3,000 today, higher than ever before in the history of the service, Inspector A. H. Bishop, civilian protection officer, said the force was under strength in three categories.

Victoria A.R.P. needs more fire watchers, more auxiliary firemen and more auxiliary policemen.

At the present time there are 67 fire watchers, 32 auxiliary policemen and 93 auxiliary firemen. Strength of the wardens' service now totals 1,600, but more wardens are needed in some districts. Of the total 1,146 are men and 454 are women. Regular wardens number 1,304. Wardens attached to separate A.R.P. posts total 296.

The medical section of the A.R.P. now has a strength of four doctors, six trained nurses, 339 first aid workers and stretcher bearers, 45 drivers, 21 decontamination workers and 332 other not classified.

The engineering section has 30 in rescue squads, 25 in decontamination units, 78 in demolition crews, 72 in clearance crews, 20 in public utilities and 53 not classified.

Other persons attached to the administrative staff and other branches total 100.

Jenkins Party Great Success

Youngsters of the Gonzales Bay and Bank Street areas gathered for their first indoor community Halloween party in Margaret Jenkins' school Saturday night and enjoyed a program of continued activity from 7.30 to 10.

The function, sponsored by the P.T.A. of the school in conjunction with the city Halloween committee, replaced the outdoor bonfires of other years, and proved a highly suitable way of entertaining the young people.

In their colorful costumes, the young guests gathered 200 strong in the assembly hall to roar with laughter at two moving picture comedies and find enjoyment in colored nature study films, shown by Ernest Drummond. During the evening they munched on apples distributed by W. H. Muncey, school principal, teachers and P.T.A. leaders, clamored for hot dogs, which they received, and accepted an orange apiece as they left the premises.

In addition to the moving pictures, the entertainment included shadowgraphs by the older boys and prize competitions, such as planning the tail on the donkey.

Italians Open Fire

JERUSALEM (AP)—Italian prison guards at Tirana, Albania, fired on a group of girls demonstrating for the release of political prisoners recently, killing 16 and wounding 25, reliable Balkan sources reported today.

Women and students were reported taking a leading part in the insurrection movement against their Italian rulers because so many men opposing Italian rule are fighting as guerrillas in the mountains. The director of Tirana police and two guards were wounded recently by patriots, after which more than 100 persons were arrested, these informants said.

Aussies to Punish Slackness in Army

MELBOURNE (AP)—Francis M. Forde, Australian army minister, announced today that new and drastic penalties have been established for undue delay with the army in carrying out orders.

Needless delay has been caused, he said, by failure of some officers to insist on prompt

Twin Service in Sweaters

If it's for war work it's got to be serviceable. Girls tending machines choose comfortable, sturdy clothes—things that have style with simplicity and for durability wear like a good friend. War workers choose their work-a-day and work-a-night wardrobe for comfort, warmth and a tidy fit, selecting those things whose smartness is in their clever design.

With slacks, coveralls, or strapped overalls, sweaters are a favorite topper for women working often in drafty corridors and on cool factory floors in the war industries. It is for these women particularly that the twin sweater set for war workers appears in the New Lux Knitting Book.

The jacket is for the needed extra warmth, the pull-over to be a constant companion for cotton overall, slack or coverall. Together or separately the jacket and pullover provide that many-purpose, highly useful garment that has to be ready to take the hard-knocks of a worker's costume.

When a sweater goes to work in a war factory, there must be no fanciness, no flimsiness, but honest-to-goodness straight sweater lines, loose-fitting enough for quick straining movements. All these considerations are emphasized in the design of the twin sweater style, a smart hand-knit meant to serve the workers well.

Careful attention to pattern detail for fit and styling, characterize each garment of the 115 patterns in the new book. Usefulness and longer-wearing qualities keynote garments ranging from baby bonnets to seaboot stockings for men of the navy. Today and tomorrow all our things must be made well enough to last a long, long time. Patterns in this new knitting book, published by Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto, are all designed for the utmost in general serviceability and hail a long life. Instructions in the Lux Knitting Book this year include the proper method for salvaging wool from worn hand-knits.

Over 400 Attend Oaklands Parties

Witches, goblins and sprites stalked the halls of Oaklands School on Hallowe'en. While the sun hung like a huge pumpkin, over 400 children made merry. The younger children first paraded in costume before the judges, Mrs. H. R. Dawson, Mrs. A. Patterson and Mr. H. Ralston, and the winners received prizes. Mr. Frank Merryfield, magician, entertained the youngsters with his wizardry, and candy and apples were distributed.

In the evening, the older children, to the accompaniment of the "Three-Tune Termites," began their party with community singing. Miss Florence Clough's pupils delighted the audience with dancing. Mrs. R. H. McInnis, Mrs. R. Stevenson, and Mr. F. G. Mulliner judged the many costumes and, to the delight of the children, Mr. H. R. Dawson, master of ceremonies, conducted a treasure trail. Movies were also shown. Candies and apples were distributed.

The judges and Miss Florence Clough were presented with corsage bouquets. Mrs. W. Blair, president of the Oaklands P.T.A., thanked everyone for their aid in making the party a success.

South Saanich Women's Institute held a silver tea Wednesday in aid of Blankets for Britain Fund. Mrs. F. Mitchell assisted by Mrs. R. Mitchell, operated the wheel of chance. A card party will be held Nov. 9.

Hard-time Dance At High School Is Gay Affair

Virtually the entire student population of Victoria High School turned out to have the time of their lives at the preliminary "hard times" party, held Saturday night at the school. Stan Peden was master of ceremonies.

In the gymnasium, decorated with orange and black streamers by the Girls' Hi-Y, the colorful costumes of the teachers and students alike made a striking picture. Tramps, farmers, cowboys, Mexicans, hula-hula girls—all were there. Music for dancing was presented by Chuck Rowley's five-piece orchestra. For those who don't dance, movies were shown in the auditorium, and the ping-pong rooms were open.

PRIZEWINNERS

Pretty little Bengelena Martin of grade 9 won the girls' masquerade prize. She wore a green and white Hawaiian hula costume. Francis Buteris, in a dress cut from a sack, won the girls' "hard times" prize. Peter Underwood's Mexican outfit captured the boys' masquerade prize. Thomas Elder, dressed as a tramp, won the boys' "hard times" prize.

A Kay Kyser quiz, contestants being preliminary representatives on the Students' Council, was held, with Jim Crawford acting as "Professor Quiz." Norah Smith and Ted Bradley tied for the prize. Elene Harper and Bruce McLellan won the string-eating contest.

Two songs, "At Last" and the "Anniversary Waltz," were sung by one of Miss Norma Douglas' singing groups, including Ida Blanco, Viola Anderson, Rosemary Darvill, Irene Armstrong, Margaret Husband, Fred Donaghy, Bob Stevenson, Frank Nicholson, and Alan MacLean.

FOR JUNIOR RED CROSS

Apples were supplied to all preliminary students. The Boys' Hi-Y ran a pop-and-doughnut stall, proceeds amounting to $35.50 will go to the Junior Red Cross Club.

Costume judges were Mr. and Mrs. H. Dee and Mr. H. L. Smith. All prizes were pumpkin pies.

The affair was sponsored by the Students' Council, the staff advisers to the council being Miss L. B. Maxwell and Mr. R. Heywood.

Teachers and wives present were: Principal and Mrs. H. L. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. H. Dee, Mrs. H. Hodson, Miss E. McKee, Miss H. Sargent, Miss N. Douglas, Mr. H. Johns, Mr. R. Heywood.

Alexandra Rose Day Proceeds Over $500

Alexandra Rose Day, held Saturday, reaped the handsome sum of approximately $500 for the child welfare work of the I.O.D.E., which again sponsored this annual appeal.

Under the general convenerhip of Mrs. A. H. C. Phillips, all were ably organized, and the general public responded well to the appeal. Every primary chapter had its own convener, responsible for given stations in the city, and members of the Catholic Women's League and the Victoria Girl Guides gave great assistance. Very few people failed to buy one of the little pink roses before the end of the day.

Mrs. Roosevelt Sees U.S. Forces at Play And in Church

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt made her first visit Sunday to a United States army camp in England.

She started early in the day by attending a church service with thousands of soldiers, joining with them in singing "Come Thou Almighty King."

She concluded her call six hours later to the strains of "Darktown Strutters' Ball," played by a New York sextette in a chateau which has been converted into a Red Cross canteen.

Late in the day she drove to an American Red Cross club where she met a cousin, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., who, it was permitted to be disclosed Sunday, has been operating the club for three months. They had tea and chatted.

Mrs. Roosevelt passed much of the afternoon in a camp hospital, going from ward to ward and bed to bed shaking hands and conversing with dozens of soldiers.

IGNORED ALARM

Calmly ignoring an air raid alarm, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt made an unannounced incognito tour through blacked-out London tonight without her official retinue to see for herself how the forces enjoy themselves in London on Saturday night.

She was chatting with soldiers and their girl friends at a leave and transit hotel operated by the Y.M.C.A. when the alarm sounded. She paid no attention to it and made a trip to the next stop while the brief alert was still on.

The U.S. President's wife created a sensation at a dance at the Red Cross Service Men's club when she was recognized early in her tour.

NOT RECOGNIZED

At the Red Cross club an elderly doorman did not recognize her and asked for her card of admittance. While she fumbled in her purse a nearby soldier shouted:

"My gosh! It's Mrs. Roosevelt."

Theodore Buttel of Detroit, the club director, spotted her and invited her to watch the Halloween dance then in progress.

For a Halloween stunt the dance floor was blacked-out and a white-clad "ghost" made of a pillowslip and false face fluttered overhead on a trolley.

The ghost got stuck and the first lady laughed heartily as the soldiers tried to make the device work and one of them said "the ghost won't walk."

SPEAKS TO SERVICEMEN

Asked for a speech, Mrs. Roosevelt said:

"I am glad to see that you are having a good time and I hope you will all make many friends with the English. I'd like to take back the knowledge that you have a real feeling for our British friends. I hope our soldiers everywhere will feel closer to men of other countries."

W.A. to the Navy League, Victoria branch, was held Friday afternoon at the Prince Robert House, the president, Mrs. R. Shanks, in the chair. The members stood in silent tribute to the memory of P.O. Michael Symons. A satisfactory report of the recent "games night" in aid of the Sea Cadets was given by the convener. The members have filled 17 ditty bags for merchant seamen. A cheque for $30 was received from the Eagles, Victoria Aerie No. 12, which will be used to fill more ditty bags. A member told how the name "ditty" came to be used. In the old days mothers of sailors always included a little rhyme in their boxes, hence the word ditty. It was reported that many men had requested that Bibles be included in the bags and the auxiliary will see that this request is granted. Mrs. Smith Neil thanked the members who helped on the recent tag day. Three new members were welcomed into the auxiliary. A satisfactory report was given of the canteen, many sailors being taken care of during the past month.

Canadian Business Frozen by New Order

OTTAWA (CP)—A vast range of Canadian business establishments is "frozen" at its present status under a drastic Prices Board order, effective today, which prohibits creation of new selling outlets, stocking of lines of goods not already handled and removal to larger premises, except under permit.

The establishment of new businesses is forbidden except by permit to be granted only in exceptional circumstances, such as increase in population near war industries.

All transfers of ownership are made subject to permit which, the board said, will be granted in bona fide cases of sale or gift.

Purpose of the order is to prevent the multiplying of existing outlets at a time when supplies are becoming more and more restricted.

Donald Gordon, board chairman, said the view is taken that—except in a comparatively few special cases—existing businesses can adequately handle the available supply of goods and services.

The order applies alike to manufacturers, retailers and 10 types of service businesses. Full information is being mailed by the board to the operators of all businesses concerned.

EXEMPTIONS

- Exemptions from the order are:
1. Sales of newspapers, magazines or periodicals.
  2. Any undertaking operated by the Dominion government or province, or any agency thereof.
  3. Religious, charitable, philanthropic and educational organizations.
  4. Farmers, hunters, trappers, gardeners, livestock producers, poultry producers or fishermen, in respect to the sale of their products in the natural state or after processing by them, except when they operate an urban retail place of business other than a stall in a market.
  5. Operators of private boarding houses, in respect to the supplying of meals and refreshments.
  6. Supplying of goods or services to the Munitions Department or agency thereof, and the operators of a new business formed and carrying on for such purpose.
  7. The sale of goods or supply.

Plan All-out War On Venereal Disease, Called Saboteur

WASHINGTON — The United States Public Health Service is preparing to go to the extreme limits of its authority in all-out war on venereal disease which threatens to sabotage the war effort by its inroads among the armed forces and the army of war industry workers.

Establishment of federal quarantine areas has even been discussed, but officials here are hoping this last resort will not be necessary. Instead they are going into immediate action on an alternate plan calling for state health department co-operation. First steps under this plan include:

1. Appointment of Dr. Udo J. Wile, professor of dermatology and syphilology at the University of Michigan Medical School, as medical director of the U.S. Public Health Service Reserve, to inaugurate and direct clinical work in an intensified drive on syphilis. Dr. Wile has just been released by the University of Michigan for this public service.

2. Establishment in critical war areas of perhaps 25 state-federal quarantine hospitals for segregation and treatment of prostitutes and other recalcitrant persons capable of spreading syphilis. The federal health service will staff and operate these hospitals, under Dr. Wile's direction, with state health departments taking responsibility for rounding up and sending the prostitutes of others spreading syphilis. The federal health service presumably will also find the hospitals and make them available to states lacking such facilities. CCC camps, it is thought, might be made available for this purpose.

3. Recruitment and training of 25 doctors, 60 nurses and 20 or more record analysts under Dr. Wile's direction. The first training course of six weeks is to start Nov. 15 at Ann Arbor, Mich. The doctors will get additional training in Detroit and the nurses at Cook County Hospital, Chicago. As more hospitals are set up, more doctors, nurses and analysts will be trained to staff them.

Intensive methods of treating syphilis, which apparently cure the patient in a few days or weeks instead of the 18 months required by earlier programs, will be used in all quarantine hospitals. Part of Dr. Wile's job and the job of the newly-trained record analysts will be to determine which of these various quick treatments are most efficient and economical. So far most of them have only been used on small groups of patients and their effectiveness and safety need further evaluation.

The one-day combined chemical and fever treatment for syphilis developed by Dr. H. Worley Kendall and associates of Dayton, Ohio, is already being given a thorough trial under federal-local health department co-operation at Wesley Hospital, Chicago. Dr. Kendall is in charge of the treatment there. This hospital, however, is not one of the quarantine hospitals, most of its patients coming voluntarily.

The record analysts, besides keeping records for evaluation of the new treatment methods, will also take charge of vocational guidance of the prostitutes after treatment and release. Long-time social and personality rehabilitation of the prostitutes may be undertaken later, but the present plan calls for job placement only. As one public health service worker put it, the idea is to "clean them up and get them jobs."

No decision has been reached on curtailing store hours.

Saskatchewan Gets Services Hockey

REGINA (CP) — A six-team Saskatchewan Services Senior Hockey League was formed here over the week-end at a re-organization meeting of the Saskatchewan Amateur Hockey Association with the possibility of a seventh club entering within the next 10 days.

Drafting of a schedule was withheld pending a decision from Moose Jaw on entry of a team. Delegates from Moose Jaw asked for a 10-day stay which was granted.

Jack Abbott of North Battleford, who was elected president, will call a meeting in Saskatoon within the next fortnight to draft a schedule.

Teams accepted as members of the league were: Regina Army, Yorkton R.C.A.F., Saskatoon R.C.A.F., Prince Albert R.C.A.F., and Prince Albert Army and Flin Flon, Man., Bombers.

Dave Dryburgh of Regina was elected league secretary.

Price Levels Set By Board For Poultry

OTTAWA (CP) — Maximum wholesale and retail prices for all classes and grades of dressed poultry throughout Canada are established in a Prices Board foods administration order just issued.

A maximum retailer's mark-up is specified and the amounts by which prices may be increased for storage charges are defined.

"It is expected the order will permit free movement of poultry from areas where production is heavy to areas of comparatively heavier consumption," the board's statement said.

Recognizing the seasonal nature of poultry production, the order designates a "packing period" and a "deficiency period" for each kind of poultry. The former, in the case of fryer and roaster chickens, capons and poultards, is September to December inclusive; for broilers, April to September inclusive; for fowl, June to September inclusive; for old roosters, May to December inclusive, and for turkeys, ducks and geese from November to December inclusive. The remaining months of the year in each case are considered the deficiency period.

AT DIFFERENT LEVELS

Illustrating the price differential as between the different zones, the wholesale maximum for special grade milk-fed chickens (roasters or fryers) is 34 cents a pound in B.C., Ontario and Quebec; 32 in Manitoba and Alberta; 31½ in Saskatchewan and 34½ in the Maritime Provinces.

Maximum prices for the seven grades of chickens range from a top of 36 cents for special grade milk-fed broilers down to 26 for "C" special roasters, in the Ontario-Quebec-B.C. zone. A premium of 2 cents a pound is allowed on capons over the maximum for fryers or roasters.

For special grade turkeys the ceiling is 37 cents in Ontario, Quebec and B.C., with the three lower grades at 36, 34 and 31 and a discount of 3 and 4 cents a pound, respectively, for old hen turkeys and old males.

Geese and ducks sold with heads and feet on are to be 1 cent a pound less than the maximum prices for those with heads off and feet on.

A retailer's selling price is to be computed as the sum of his cost from processor or wholesaler, plus actual transportation charges, plus his normal mark-up, not to exceed 9 cents per pound.

Processors, wholesalers and retailers are required to keep for 90 days invoices showing the details of their poultry buying and selling transactions with each other.

Princeton Miners Vote on Strike On Union Issue

PRINCETON, B.C. (CP)—One hundred and fifty Princeton coal miners who recently made an unsuccessful application for recognition of the United Mine Workers of America as their union today were taking a strike ballot without government supervision, and the result will be announced at a meeting tomorrow.

Decision to take the strike vote was made at a meeting Sunday at which it was stated the Department of Labor had failed to comply with order-in-council No. 7307, which provides that when employees ask for a strike vote it should be taken within five days of the application. An application for a strike vote was made Oct. 13, shortly after publication of an arbitration award rejecting the miners' bid for recognition of the U.M.W.A. as their bargaining agent.

John Stokluk of Calgary, vice-president of District 18, United Mine Workers of America, said at Sunday's meeting that if the Labor Department decides now to conduct an official strike ballot the union will offer full co-operation.

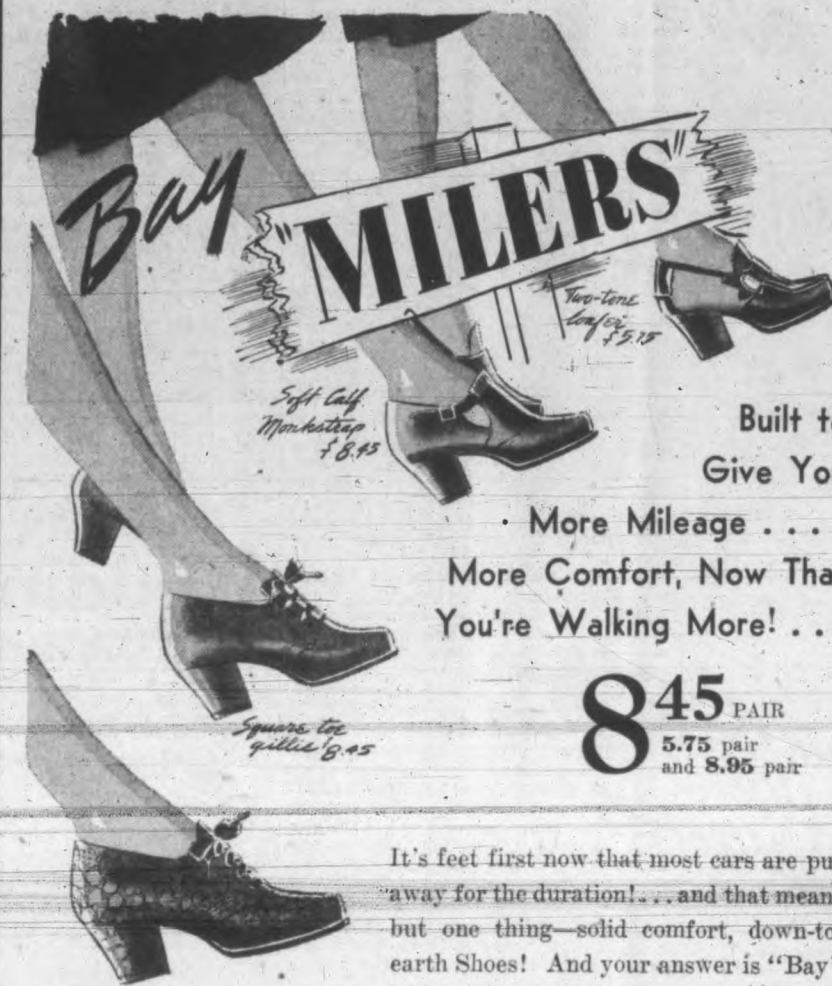

Three Princeton citizens—A. D. Broomfield, Ged Lyall and H. McConnell—supervised today's voting.

"We are asking for recognition of the union on a closed shop basis the same as we already have in all other coal mines in Alberta and British Columbia," Stokluk said before leaving for Vancouver.

The miners, engaged by three local companies, laid off for a few days early last month in protest against alleged delay in releasing the arbitration board's findings.

HOCKEY TALK over the week-end centred around the fast-skating, hard-shooting club the Army has come up with and the first appearance in the local ice house tonight of Dave MacKay's Nanaimo Clippers. After watching the red-shirted Army crew tear through the R.C.A.F. Flyers for 13 goals Friday night, there was not a single puck follower that had any doubts about whether or not Bill Carse, Elmer Kreller, Bus Algar and company would prove a threat for the championship of the new Island League.

We had expected the Army crew to prove "hot" but they even surprised us with their first-night stand. As one fan remarked during the game: "Wonder just where the Army will fit Nick Metz in?" For the benefit of that customer we can say that the former Toronto Maple Leaf left winger will team up on the line with Carse and Pinky Melnyk.

Watching blonde-thatched Len Halderson fly up and down the lanes Friday night shades of Frank Fredrickson were drawn on our memory. This young fellow, who played last season with Springfield, has all the skating and stickhandling form that marked the former Winnipeg Falcons star when he made his pro debut with the Victoria Cougars back in early 1920's. Halderson even holds his head high in the air when carrying the puck the same as "Freddie." And the next time you watch this Halderson play just notice the few times he gets bumped by opposing defencemen. He really makes good use of his speed to keep him out of trouble.

From what we hear, the R.C.A.F. Flyers are going to get some hockey players of senior league calibre or else. That one-sided beating Friday night was the best proof in the world the airmen have to bolster considerably if they expect to hold a position in the circuit. Before the season opened it was reported the Flyers had a pipe-line to Ottawa for hockey talent. All we can say is that line must have got badly plugged or diverted to some place other than Victoria. The Flyers will have to strengthen up or occupy a strictly back-row seat in the league. It would not be fair to the other clubs or the spectators for them to attempt to carry on with the present lineup.

In passing, however, we must pay tribute to the players who turned out for the Flyers Friday. Hopelessly outclassed from the start the airmen never gave up trying. They played their hearts out, even though a dozen goals down. That kind of spirit and sportsmanship is to be admired. Army got a bad break when Julian Sawchuk, big rugged defenceman, suffered a broken bone in one of his hands in the second period. He will be out of action for at least three weeks and possibly longer. The club immediately started the wheels moving for reinforcements and don't be surprised if some new faces appear with the redshirts their next time out.

Tonight's engagement between Nanaimo and Navy looks like a natural. The Clippers have a sound club built around eight of last year's championship outfit. Noted additions are forwards Jimmy Wilson, Larry Kwong (Chinese star) and Bruce MacKay. The Navy showed a lot of class in defeating the V.M.D. in the league opener a week to night and are quite satisfied they can handle any combination the Clippers place on the ice.

Major Hockey Opening

Wings Beat Boston

WEEK-END SCORES

Toronto 7, Rangers 2.
Canadiens 3, Boston 2.
Detroit 3, Boston 0.

National Hockey League coaches and managers should be pretty smug fellows today. Their supremacy in the prediction department has been solidly established, for the time being at least.

Before the N.H.L. opened its fourth wartime season, the Mentors were practically unanimous that Detroit Red Wings, Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens would finish one-two-three. Well, they're a long way from through yet, but the forecasts stood up during the first week-end of competition with all three teams winning a joint share of first place.

Leafs smothered New York Rangers 7 to 2, and Canadiens toppled Boston Bruins 3 to 2 in Saturday games on the Canadian teams' home ice. Detroit Red Wings blanked the same Bruins 3 to 0 at Detroit, Sunday. Chicago Black Hawks, sixth team in the League, will be idle until Thursday.

At least five outstanding rookies blossomed into prominence during the week-end. Probably the most sparkling performance was that of Gaye Stewart, 19-year-old Fort William left winger, who scored two goals for Leafs and assisted in one other. Other Leaf goals were scored by Lorne Carr, Syl Apps, Hank Goldup, Billy Taylor and Shep Mayer.

LINE LOOKS GOOD

Only slightly less brilliant than Stewart was the Ranger line of Joe Bell, Lin Bend and Bill Gooden, the teen-aged trio from Portage la Prairie Triers, 1941-42 junior champions. Bend scored one Ranger goal, while the other went to Angus (Scotty) Cameron.

After the game, one of the trio said playing in a heated rink at Maple Leaf Gardens was "like somebody clutching at your throat."

"It was the first time any of us ever played in a heated rink. It was terrible, and we all felt it. It's not like the breezy rinks we've been accustomed to."

Four rookies took part in the Boston-Canadiens' contest, but only one Maurice Richard of Canadiens, managed to break into the scoring column, with an assist. Tony Demers scored twice for Canadiens, and Ray Gelliffe tallied the third. Boston goals were scored by such seasoned campaigners as Busher Jackson and Johnny Crawford.

Bruins had only 12 able-bodied players in uniform for their Sunday game with Red Wings, and the result was a busy night for goalie Frank Brimsk in the Boston nets. He was beaten by Mud Bruneteau, Sid Abel and Harry Watson, but he stopped countless others. Johnny Mowers turned in the season's first shut-out for Detroit.

C.A.H.A. Rules On Dave MacKay

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—Frank Sargent of Port Arthur, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, announced Sunday night that Dave MacKay has been suspended by the association for his failure to report to Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League.

Sargent said the suspension bars MacKay, now playing with Nanaimo Clippers in the Vancouver Island Senior Hockey League, from C.A.H.A. competition.

Last season MacKay, the property of Black Hawks, was unable to obtain a passport to play in the United States and so lined up with Nanaimo Clippers, winners of the western Canada intermediate championship. Since then he has been classed military exempt and was ordered to report to Chicago this season.

Sargent, at the same time, announced three professionals had been reinstated to amateur ranks. They are Gerald Heffernan of Montreal, R. G. Heron of Toronto and Francis Blake of Kingston, Ont.

Alumni Capture Grid Playoff

It seems that in Canadian football you have to have more than a one-man backfield to win games, as V.M.D. Blue Devils' Siki Sturrock found out at Central Park, Sunday. Siki packed the ball almost the whole afternoon, scored all his team's 11 points and generally stood out like the proverbial sore thumb. Yet V.H.S. Alumni won the battle, 19 to 11, and need to win only one more game to receive the Sons of Canada Trophy, emblematic of the city junior Canadian football championship.

Played before a crowd of almost 500 it was the best exhibition game of the season and a tempting sample of play-off football. A balanced and speedy Alumni backfield proved the Blue Devil undoing and all Sturrock's yard-gaining plunges could not offset Alumni's devastating ground and aerial advances.

OPEN SCORING

Alumni opened the scoring half way through the first quarter with a touchdown that should have been only a rouge. With play near centre field, Alumni's Fred Ranson got a long punt away that bounced into the Blue Devil end zone. Fullback Harold Dale, attempting to retrieve it, let the ball slip out of his hands and Alumni's Alex Watson fumbled it. Dick Chunganes' kick was good to make the score 6 to 0.

That break seemed to temporarily dishearten the V.M.D. crew who were soon back on their own 25-yard line after the kick-off. Stanislov Keversky, Alumni quarterback, got away on a long end run that took him to the Blue Devil two-yard line and enabled Buddy Lott to plunge over for five more points. Chunganes again made the kick good.

V.M.D. finally broke into the scoring column principally on the efforts of Sturrock. After a punting duel the losers secured the ball on the Alumni 15-yard line. Sturrock drove through to the Alumni two-yard line and on the third down battered over for the touchdown. Siki kicked widely, however, to leave the count 12 to 5 at the half.

Soon after the start of the third Freddy Ranson's kick to deadline added another point to the Alumni score and a few minutes later they stopped their point gathering with the prettiest play of the day.

PRETTY PASS

Ranson punted into Blue Devil territory on a third down, Alumni recovering the ball at the opposition 10-yard line. On the next play Ranson faded back to the 20-yard line and forward pass back of the Blue Line uprights into the arms of Harry Wood. Chunganes made a third score perfect; his kick splitting the posts nicely.

Blue Devils went on the offensive for the rest of the period, carried into the fourth and midway through crashed over the line for the last score of the game. It was a 70-yard march along the ground, sheer power gaining the score. Sturrock carried the ball in four of every five plays, Red Bourque and Harry Mitchell relieving him whenever the beating became too much. Camped a yard from the Alumni line, Sturrock found a hole in the defence and ripped through untouched. This time his goal was good.

The next game of the finals will be played at Central Park, Sunday, at 2:30.

Play Here Tonight

When Nanaimo Clippers battle Royal Canadian Navy in tonight's Island Hockey League game at the Willows Arena the two players pictured here will hold the fans' interest. At the top is goalie Stubby Mason, who will be remembered for his fine play last season for New Westminster Spitfires in the Inter-city League. At the bottom is Larry Kwong, one of the few Chinese players in hockey. Last season with Trail Smoke Eaters, in the crack ABC League, Kwong will handle a wing berth on one of the Nanaimo lines. Game time is 8:30.

Exhibition Rugby

In exhibition rugby matches Saturday University School and R.A.F. clubs registered victories. First and second University clubs defeated Brentwood College sides 14 to 10 and 9 to 5 while the Pat Bay Flyers scored a shutout over Victoria College, 14 to 0.

Week-end Soccer

Esquimalt-R.A.F. Tie

Aided by the fine play of four juniors, Esquimalt United sprang a surprise in Sunday's first division soccer match, holding the highly-touted R.A.F. to 3-to-3 draw before close to 1,000. As a matter of fact the Pat Bay Flyers had to come from behind, 3 to 1 deficit to save a draw.

In Saturday's pair of matches the V.M.D. plastered the Canadian Army School of Instruction 12 to 1 and the Navy nosed out the Army 7 to 5.

V.M.D. continue to head the league by a one-point margin over the R.A.F., with the Navy in third position three points back.

After the R.A.F. had forced the early attack but proved weak in front of goal, Esquimalt scored on a quick breakaway, Ab Travis performing the trick on a pass from G. Duncan. Esquimalt continued to hold the upper hand, with the R.A.F. dangerous on fast breaks. Esquimalt forced three corners and, on the third one, Travis headed in Duncan's cross. Half-time found Esquimalt leading 2 to 0.

For 15 minutes of the second half end to end play kept the fans on their toes. During a mixup in the goalmouth one of the Esquimalt backs fell on the ball and the R.A.F. scored from the penalty shot. The R.A.F. continued to test Tommy Restell in the Esquimalt net and he treated the spectators to one of the finest exhibitions of his long career.

R.A.F. RALLIES

On another of their fast break-aways Esquimalt made it 3 to 1. Kirby Gend finding the net with a long, looping shot. Two goals down, the R.A.F. forced the offensive and Hall made it 3 to 2. With time drawing near the Flyers finally tied the score, Les Boulter heading the ball past Restell.

Feature of the game was the play of the four juniors, A. Young, G. Creed, A. Jenkins and A. White, for Esquimalt. Boulter was outstanding for the R.A.F.

Putting on a great driving finish to overcome a three-goal handicap Navy registered its second victory of the season over the Army. It was a tough setback for the soldiers seeking their initial win of the campaign.

Showing a lot of offensive strength the Army moved right along in the first half. After the Navy had taken a 1-to-0 lead on the strength of a goal by Alec Ross, making his first appearance of the season, the Army returned to the attack with left-winger Slane converting a cross from Gold on the opposite flank. Army went into the lead when Cosier took Chapman's pass and made no mistake. Play swung back to the Army end of the field and Ramsay put the clubs level 2 to 2.

Still showing plenty of dash the Army pressed and before half-time Dallimore booted in a pair of goals to give his club a 4-to-2 margin.

Teams trotted on the field for the second half with several new faces in both line-ups. Navy substituted Reid for Musgrave and moved Ross to centre-forward. Army replaced McConnell, left fullback, Davies taking his position. The former quit play on account of an injury. Army continued to hold the offensive and Gold made it 5 to 2.

At this point the bluejackets took over complete command of the game and, before the close, had rifled through five goals without a return. Ramsay opened the barrage by scoring from a corner kick, without another player touching the ball. Reid added another and Ross tied the score. The latter got his second counter and the Navy were ahead 6 to 5. Thompson was responsible for the Navy's seventh score.

McKinstrey refereed.

PROCESSION OF GOALS

The match between the V.M.D. and C.A.S. of I. was just a case of how many goals the shipyarders would score in the 90 minutes. The soldiers were completely outclassed and were fortunate to prevent a shutout.

George Payne, taking over the centre-forward position early in the game in place of Alan Reside, who moved to outside left, was the high scorer of the afternoon with four goals. The players decided to switch positions after Reside had missed several good scoring chances. Harris and Parks were right in the scoring parade with three goals each, while Reside and Morgan added singles.

Only goal credited to the Army club was scored by McGeachey, V.M.D. back, who kicked the ball into his own net in attempting to clear.

Score at half-time was 5 to 1. McMillan refereed.

Nanaimo Clippers Battle Navy Puckmen Tonight

Up-islanders Drop Game To V.M.D.

Nanaimo Clippers make their first appearance at the Willows arena tonight for an Island Hockey League engagement with the Navy, starting at 8:30. Clippers played their opening game up-island Saturday, dropping an odd-goal battle to the V.M.D.

Navy will be gunning for its second straight triumph and possession of first place in the league standing. In the league opener just a week ago the bluejackets blanked the V.M.D. 2 to 0.

As for Saturday's game against the V.M.D. the Clippers will be forced to take the ice without their playing coach, Dave MacKay. The big defence star stands suspended by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association for failure to report to Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League.

V.M.D. TRIUMPHS

NANAIMO (CP)—Beaten 2 to 0 by Navy on its first appearance, Victoria Machinery Depot today had squared off its account in the Island Hockey League.

The Victorians came through with a last-period goal in a Saturday night game against Nanaimo Clippers to break a 3 to 3 tie and give them a 4 to 3 win over last year's western Canadian intermediate champions.

But it was not until near the end of the game that the V.M.D. were able to get the winner. The score was a heartbreak for the Clippers who had counted twice to tie up the game.

It came at the 14-minute mark when Morris Duffy took a pass from Les Bird after the pair had gone down the ice together.

The teams split the scoring in the first, Jimmy Wilson going through for the Clippers on a lone effort at the 4-minute mark and Bus Brayshaw scoring for Victoria after another 8 minutes.

Seven minutes after the second period opened the V.M.D. went ahead when Red Beattie hit the netting on a solo rush. They went still further ahead at the 13-minute mark as Duffy scored on a pass from Bud Gourlie.

But the Clippers evened things up in short order by hanging in two goals in 2 minutes. Jackie Mann and Bruce MacKay did the shooting, the former on a pass from Sutherland and the latter on a pass from Carr.

Clippers made their season's debut minus the services of playing coach Dave MacKay, ruled ineligible to play by A. S. Aitken, secretary of the British Columbia branch of the C.A.H.A. for alleged failure to report to Chicago Black Hawks. News of MacKay's suspension came in a wire just two hours before game time.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Nanaimo, Wilson, 4:09; 2, V.M.D., Brayshaw, 12:06. Penalties: McFadden (2), Sutherland, Gourlie, Brayshaw, Wilson, Neilson.

Capital Close-ups

By JOHN DAUPHINEE

OTTAWA (CP)—Plans for increasing the output of Canadian war industry through more efficient operation and better use of the men and women already at work are under study by National Selective Service and the munitions department, with lessons learned by British labor administrators as a guide.

Progressive steps now are being taken to channel workers from civilian industry into war jobs, but there is wide belief that even with existing staffs, war production can be boosted. Officials point to the manpower savings accomplished in Britain through widespread introduction of labor-saving devices and suggest that further steps along the same line are possible here.

The possibility is seen that Canada ultimately will follow the United Kingdom's lead in using "labor supply inspectors"—men skilled in plant procedure who go into individual factories and determine whether some of the highly-skilled workers can be replaced by less-skilled help. The extent of "labor-hoarding" in Canada is not accurately known, but both Britain and the United States have encountered it and labor supply inspectors are one way to have it curtailed, if not eliminated.

Formation of labor-management committees in war and civilian industry is being urged. A start in this direction has been made, but only a start. It is believed officially that plant committees on which both workers and employers have representation would prove of great assistance in ironing out petty grievances and improving working conditions.

These are things which led to absenteeism among employees. And absenteeism in some war plants is known by Selective Service to be as high as 20 per cent—a pure waste of manpower at a time when efforts are being made to get women out of the home and so increase the nation's total working force.

It seems the Gentlemen With Wings prefer blondes—not necessarily the way you're thinking but at any rate from the point of view of flying operations.

One of the many delicate instruments on a modern fighter or bomber is a hygrometer, an instrument to determine the relative humidity of the air. How it works doesn't matter but the fact is a human hair is one of the requisites for determining the relative humidity of the air.

Over at the munitions department they tell us blond hair is more sensitive than any other.

The House of Commons subcommittee on salvage collections has heard a lot of stories about the waste-rubber campaign—but none better than the tale of a small Quebec village and the way it responded.

The parish priest had been asked to help the salvage drive, so one Sunday he told his congregation:

"I see you come to church today with your cars and buggies. I ask you to come next Sunday with your farm wagons. And bring all the rubber salvage you can find."

The congregation did. The wagons next Sunday brought 5,000 pounds—2½ tons—of scrap rubber.

When Washington announced the other day that the "pioneer road" to Alaska was open to traffic, nobody here was more interested than the deputy mines minister, Dr. Charles Camsell.

He knows the northwest like a woodsman. Son of a fur trader, Dr. Camsell as a boy lived at Fort Laird in northern British Columbia, and when no more than a youth made notable journeys through much of the territory, which was filled in on maps only after aircraft began to roar across the mountains to find landing places on the inland lakes.

If it wasn't autumn, the Centre Block on Parliament Hill would be undergoing its spring cleaning. Since it is autumn, we don't know what to call it. But there's a great do-do of window washing

It even got around to the elevator mechanism and most of the "lifts" are undergoing repairs. Civil servants who haven't climbed the stairs for ever so long are marching (not too nimbly) to their offices.

Labor Minister Mitchell has been a land-lubber for a lot of years but he hasn't forgotten the days when he used to go down to the sea in ships. It's a favorite topic of conversation with him and he tells some good stories about the first Great War days when he served at sea on Royal Navy aircraft.

When people speak of sacrifice, Mr. Mitchell like as not will speak briskly—and bluntly—of what sacrifices mean to the men in lumbering freighters and comfortless warcraft, what with submarines, long watches and foul weather.

Demand By-elections At Once in Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation of Ontario asked Premier Gordon Conant today "to direct forthwith the issue of writs" for by-elections in six vacant Ontario constituencies.

The request was made in a letter to the Premier from C.C.F. provincial leader E. B. Jolliffe, and vice-presidents G. M. A. Grube and E. A. Brewin. It asked a prompt reply "so that if you refuse to do the duty imposed on you by law we can consider taking to the Supreme Court of Canada the proceedings that have been launched to compel you to do so."

More Ration Boards Established in B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Prices Board has set up eight more local rationing boards at points in British Columbia. It was reported here today by O. H. Bell, regional supervisor of rationing. Two more branches, at present uncompleted, are planned for Vernon and Penticton.

The latest branches set up are at Kamloops, Salmon Arm, Kelowna, Grand Forks, Trail, Nelson, Revelstoke and Williams Lake.

Celebrate Russia's Birthday Friday

To salute Soviet Russia, which will celebrate Nov. 7 the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, a public meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce next Friday at 8. Victorians will then have the opportunity of hearing one of the leading authorities and commentators on international affairs, Harrison Brown, who was for several years special correspondent in Europe for the London News Chronicle.

Also of special interest will be the appearance of Bob Kerr, Victorian anti-Fascist, who was recently released from internment under the Defence of Canada Regulations. He will give a brief address. Mr. Kerr is a veteran of the first Great War and served with the Loyalist army in Spain as political commissar.

The occasion which this meeting marks is being honored by cities throughout Canada and the United States, many of which have designated the week ending Nov. 7 "Russia Week," as a tribute to the courage and heroism of the Soviet people.

Victoria Gasoline Sales Dropping

Victoria motorists decreased their use of gasoline in September 11.68 per cent over the same month of 1941.

At the same time Vancouver and district increased its retail consumption of gasoline by 21.3 per cent.

There is no explanation for this, except that many war industry trucks on the mainland have been buying gas at retail stations, when new gas categories were announced, may have filled up their tanks by using their existing ration tickets at one time.

Total B.C. gas sales in September were 6,175,311 gallons, an increase of 186,162 over August, but a decrease of 13,758 over September a year ago.

Resellers in September used 4,008,355 gallons, a decrease over August of 123,281, but an increase of 288,553 over September, 1941. Commercial accounts in September used 1,772,939 gallons, an increase of 421,510 gallons over August and an increase of 120,480 over September a year ago. Marine accounts have been dropping—120,067 gallons over August and 181,831 gallons over September, 1941. Marine accounts used 394,017 gallons last month.

Victoria used, in September, 468,185 gallons, a decrease of 62,865 gallons over September a year ago. Vancouver and district used 2,190,437, increase of 466,351 gallons over the same month of 1941. The balance of the province used 1,349,733 gallons, a decrease of 114,933 gallons, or 7.5 per cent.

Bureau Directors Discuss 1943 Plans

Directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, meeting Friday afternoon, discussed plans for carrying on the bureau. Members of the City Council, who are also bureau directors, took a prominent part in the discussion. The sum of $5,000 was suggested as the amount which might be forthcoming next year for operation of the bureau. This represents a cut of 50 per cent over the 1942 grant from the city.

Questions of how to operate the bureau on a skeleton staff with reduced revenue were discussed. What action will be taken if the bureau's grant from the city is cut will be decided at a later meeting.

Marketing Plan For Mink Breeders

The B.C. Mink Breeders' Association has applied to the Dominion Minister of Agriculture for an agreement under the Natural Products Co-operative Marketing Act (1939), to provide a basis for the orderly marketing of the 1942 crop of ranch mink pelts.

Little Bros., Vancouver Fur Auction House, has been proposed as selling agents, by the association.

A grading system has been worked out to grade the pelts and place them in the grade pool to which they belong.

When the pelts are graded the producer can receive an advance of approximately 50 per cent of the price paid for similar grades in the 1941 crop.

As the pools are sold, further advances may be made, and when the pool is completely sold, the returns will be divided pro rata amongst the pool members, less the actual costs of operation, up to a maximum of 30 cents per pelt on mink.

The system is entirely voluntary. Ranchers may dispose of their pelts as they wish, but the pools will be at their convenience.

The first locomotive ever operated in the United States was bought in England.

ONE of these days you'll learn that Canadian civilians aren't soft... they're fighting mad... and tough!

Prove it to him Canada! Answer that sneering challenge with the spit of machine guns... the rumble of tanks... blacken his skies with bombers, fighters—keep Canadian warships on the hunt for his skulking submarines. Give Hitler hell—he's asked for it.

Show him the very folks he thinks softest, are as tough as they come! You white-collar office men and women—show him that you can take it... and give it, too. Show him that you can do without those 'extras' that contribute to the comfort and enjoyment of our normal way of life. And be proud to do it!

What is your share of the savings job? Well, the average Canadian would have to lend to Canada to meet Canada's need $1 in every $5 of income left after taxes and compulsory savings have been collected. The average may not fit your case. Your own circumstances are distinctly your own. You may be able to do better both out of your current income and out of your accumulated savings in the bank—or you may not be able to reach the average. Your share of voluntary savings is every dollar you can possibly spare.

Remember, you will be laying up for yourself the best of all investments—VICTORY BONDS are backed by all the resources of the Dominion of Canada; they yield a fair rate of interest; you can borrow against them; and they are readily saleable when you need the cash.

Believe It Or Not,
The Beer Ran Out

Imagine the surprise of a crowded veterans' club Saturday night when the lights were dimmed at 8.30 p.m. and the bar boarded up.

"No more beer," said tired waiters.

Because it was navy, army and air force pay day, the veterans' clubs were crowded all day. This particular club couldn't stand the pace at all—the beer barrels just ran dry and there was nothing to do but close up.

Those patrons who were still thirsty went in search of more beer, but they found most of the downtown clubs so crowded that there were people waiting outside the doors.

Such a thing as a beer parlor running out of beer had never been heard of before in Victoria.

Building Down Half
In Last 10 Months

Civilian building in Greater Victoria during the first 10 months of this year amounts to approximately one half of that for the corresponding period in 1941, according to totals released by building inspectors of the city and adjacent municipalities today.

The 10 months' totals amount to $1,858,528, a figure less than that listed in the city alone last year and less than half the $3,825,947 listed for Greater Victoria area during the corresponding 1941 period.

In the city itself the October figure of $61,587 raised to $909,698 the aggregate for the year to date. In October, 1941, construction amounted to $196,073 and the 10 months' total was $1,891,448. Two homes only were listed last month against 10 in the city in October, 1941.

OAK BAY

Building permits issued in Oak Bay during October totaled 14, against 26 in October, 1941, and the value of the permits last month was $5,651 against $62,015 during the same month last year.

Only one permit was taken out for a house last month against 15 permits for houses worth $38,137 during October last year.

So far this year permits for 50 houses valued at $173,700 have been issued. Last year at this time permits for 168 houses valued, at $620,889 had been issued. Average value of houses built this year is $3,474. Last year the average value was $3,700.

A total of 125 permits for buildings valued at $195,092 have been issued this year against 257 permits valued at $678,667 last year.

SAANICH

Nine permits were issued in Saanich last week for minor construction valued at $1,845. For the month of October 32 were issued for construction estimated at $7,075. Only one house, valued at $2,200, was included in this amount.

For the year to date 398 permits have been issued for construction placed at $396,537. Of these 154 were for houses estimated at $343,900. In October of 1941 56 permits were issued for construction valued at $71,190. Thirty-one were for dwellings estimated at $66,650. For the first 10 months of 1941 permits totaled 723 for construction estimated at $1,024,028. Of these 404 were for dwellings of an estimated value of $960,920.

ESQUIMALT

No building permits were issued in Esquimalt last week. During the month three were granted for construction estimated at $3,650. Two were for houses estimated at $3,600. For the first 10 months of the year 55 permits were issued for construction valued at $378,593. These included permits for 126 dwellings estimated at $366,746.

Seven permits were issued in October of 1941, valued at $12,150. Three, estimated at $7,300, were for houses. Seventy-seven permits were issued in the first 10 months of 1941 of an estimated value of $289,582. Of these 47 were for dwellings estimated at $140,800.

Charles Hastings, 2829 Cedar Hill Road, reported to police Saturday night two overcoats, valued at $45, and a $5 blanket had been stolen from his car while parked on Belleville Street.

Boot Case to Go
To Jury Tuesday

Indications the conspiracy to defraud trial of L. J. Simmons, former B.C. police quartermaster, and J. A. Walsh, managing-director of Wm. Cathcart Co. Ltd., would go to the jury Tuesday were given by Mr. Justice Sidney Smith today as he suggested the jurors not serving on the case be excused until Wednesday morning.

He was unwilling, he said, to have the jury sit through the evening today.

During the morning W. C. Moresby, K.C., crown prosecutor, with J. B. Clearihue, K.C., addressed the jury, completing the case for the crown. During the afternoon P. J. Sinnott, counsel for Simmons, and Joseph McKenna, counsel for Walsh, delivered their addresses. Indications point to delivery of the judge's charge Tuesday morning.

Throughout the morning Moresby drew together the threads of evidence into the pattern of the crown's case.

He defined the charge, stating it was not necessary to show the persons concerned had made an agreement in writing or verbally. Overt acts were disclosed in evidence, he said, to show that an agreement existed.

TWO QUESTIONS

The jury, counsel said, had two questions to answer: Has the government of the province of British Columbia been defrauded? and were the accused parties to the fraud? There could be only one answer, "yes," in both cases, he said.

Reviewing witnesses and evidence, Moresby noted the accused Simmons had come to the police force with excellent credentials, which placed him in a good position to practice fraud, since he was trusted.

Counsel reviewed evidence of Constable R. H. Leonard, stating Simmons had sought to have him make false entries. When asked for statements, Simmons, counsel said, had resorted to deceit to conceal.

If goods had been delivered there would have been listed, and if they had been listed a substantial surplus would have been disclosed instead of a shortage.

Moresby reviewed evidence of Miss Audrey Harness to the effect boots had been bought from two manufacturers only, and cited other evidence to show more had been invoiced to the government than had been purchased from the makers.

FALSE INVOICES

Fraud, he said, was shown in false invoices which listed women's shoes as police boots.

He reviewed cheque dealings in detail, asking who made the profit, and claimed the defence had drawn red herrings across the trail by introducing irrelevant evidence on such matters as acquisition by inspectors and constables of goods without requisitions.

He contended false entries in the stock book, allegedly made by Simmons, constituted a fraud, and asked the jury if its members could imagine how the series of transactions could have been carried out over a period of three years without agreement between the two accused.

D. Wilson, 210 Wilson Street, reported to police early Sunday morning that his 1934 Buick, license 4-554, had been stolen from Fisgard Street.

Coroner's Jury
Finds Corporal
Killed Accidentally

A coroner's jury under Dr. E. C. Hart today found the death of Cpl. Paul Emile Briand, 22, of Verdun, Que., member of a French-Canadian regiment, was an accident. Cpl. Briand died instantaneously when shot through the mouth at 7.30 Thursday evening last at Healy's Range.

Pte. George Cote, who was holding the gun when the shot was fired, speaking through an interpreter, told the court he had returned from a hunting trip to a hut at the range. He said he put his Lee Enfield rifle on a counter near the door. The bullets were in the magazine.

Cpl. Briand took the rifle from the counter and proceeded to load it, Cote said. He aimed it at the wall, then unloaded it and replaced it on the table.

Cote said he took three or four live bullets from the floor after Briand had unloaded the gun and put them in the magazine. While he was inserting the magazine in the gun, Briand asked him to play cards.

Cote said he would play cards and in fun suggested stakes of $5. Briand said he would have to count his money. He counted it frequently, Cote said.

Deciding he would not play cards, Cote took his rifle from the counter and moved towards the door. Briand in fun, he said, reached for his revolver. Holding his gun at arm's length, Cote turned around again and as he did so his gun went off, he said.

Cote said he could not remember whether the bolt of the gun was locked or not when he picked it up from the counter.

Sgt. Lucien Benoit said he had been in charge of the detachment at the range but had left Cpl. Briand in charge during the evening. He said he gave Briand his revolver when he told him to take over and there were four live and two fired shells in it.

Pte. Gerard Landry said Cote and Briand were friends and Briand was well liked by the men. Members of the jury were: Gavin Jack, foreman; Perciv W. Fisher, W. T. Slater, C. M. Granlin, Frank S. Lang, and Leon Lefler.

Cpl. Briand is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Auguste Briand, Montreal. The body was forwarded this afternoon from S. J. Curry and Son Funeral Home to Montreal where funeral service and interment will take place.

3rd Air Officer
In Pacific Coast

Promotion of Group Capt. Earl McLeod to the rank of air commodore was announced today by Western Air Command.

The promotion creating the third officer of air rank in this district, points markedly to the growing importance of the Pacific Coast area as a strategically vital factor in the defence of this continent.

A native of Chilliwack, Air Commodore McLeod was a school teacher in that Mainland centre up to 1917 when he joined the R.N.A.S., serving overseas until the end of the war.

He returned to B.C. and taught school for one year and in 1920 accepted a civilian post with the Canadian Air Board. In 1924 the Canadian Air Board was absorbed with most of its personnel into the R.C.A.F. since when, up to the outbreak of the present war, Air Commodore McLeod has served at most air stations throughout Canada.

He went overseas in 1941, and returned to take an important post with Western Air Command Headquarters in August last.

Dr. J. S. Thomson
Takes Over CBC;
Outlines Policy

OTTAWA (CP)—Rev. Dr. James S. Thomson today took over the post of general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, succeeding W. E. Gladstone Murray who now is director-general of broadcasting.

Dr. Thomson, whose headquarters are in Toronto, said in a statement in connection with his new position:

"The national radio system, more than any other public institution, is the voice of Canada. The function of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation is to make that voice sincere, authentic and worthy. In co-operation with the local stations, we must endeavor to let the Canadian tongue find utterance in both our languages, and yet with a local accent.

A novel candle is a yard long but is coiled so that it can be fed upward as it burns by turning a crank on its holder.

TOWN TOPICS

Regular monthly meeting of Victoria Lodge No. 1 A.O.U.W. has been called for Wednesday 8 p.m. in the Business and Professional Women's Clubrooms, Union Bank Building.

Herbert Swarbrick was fined $40 and had his driver's license suspended for three months when he pleaded guilty in police court today to a charge of dangerous driving at Prior Street and Vista Heights, Oct. 26. Constable William Andrews said Swarbrick's car hit another and then careened on for 138 feet.

John Crab, 1115 Balmoral Road, sustained a fractured nose and abrasions on his right hand at 7.55 Saturday evening when his bicycle was in a collision at Yates and Vancouver Streets with a car driven by Albert E. Latimer, 2086 Byron Street. He was taken to the Jubilee Hospital by Constables Samuel McKenzie and Stanley Holmes in the police patrol.

All ditty bags being filled for the navy must be returned to Prince Robert House by the end of the week. This request is made by the W.A., as it is urgent that these bags be turned in without delay or many a boy in the navy is going to be disappointed at Christmas. The committee would be grateful if others would fill ditty bags or send in donations before the end of the week, as the quota is still not complete.

Appointment of Commander Charles F. Goodeve of Winnipeg, who is well known in Victoria, to the position of assistant controller for research and development of the British Admiralty, was announced in a cable received Sunday by his wife, Dr. Janet Goodeve, also a research scientist, now working for the Cancer Relief and Research Institute in Winnipeg. Wartime Hallow'en
Quietest Remembered

Police and fire chiefs in Greater Victoria reported today that Hallow'en, 1942 wartime style, was far less troublesome than the traditional celebration and went so far as to say it was the quietest they could remember here.

Heeding the words of authorities who asked them to keep off the streets and to refrain from doing damage to property, children this year either stayed at home, went to parties or special Hallow'en gatherings in school auditoriums.

In the city only four missing gates were reported to police and only three cases of damage to fences. The fire department made only four runs Saturday night, all chimney fires.

The municipalities reported only isolated cases of Hallow'en pranks that entailed damage and no fires.

Young adults, who in past years often joined in the destructive fun, spent this Hallow'en like any other Saturday night and went to dances, movies, or skating sessions.

Pocket Money Sought
For Elderly Men

An appeal for subscribers to the Old Men's Home Pocket Money Fund is made by Alderman W. H. Davies who says that unless some more subscribers volunteer it is possible the fund will have to close.

For 20 years the committee has distributed monthly a dollar to nonpensioners at the home and 50 cents to pensioners.

It is the only money some of the nonpensioners receive and without it they would be unable to purchase tobacco, buy stamps occasionally or purchase car tickets for a visit to town.

"If citizens knew how this pocket money is appreciated by the aged men there would be no trouble raising the money," says Alderman Davies.

Opening shot in the Salmon Arm by-election Nov. 25 will be fired Wednesday night by Premier John Hart and Attorney General R. L. Maitland, who will speak on behalf of Mayor Thompson of Salmon Arm, the coalitionist candidate.

Gable, Lana Turner In Capitol Film

That movie audiences are more actively nostalgic about—New York's Greenwich Village than almost any part of the globe is a fact confirmed by the letters that pour into a studio whenever the slightest thing is wrong with a Village set.

In the new Clark Gable-Lana Turner film, "Somewhere I'll Find You," now at the Capitol Theatre, the opening sequences are in Greenwich Village. Great care was taken in the building of the sets, particularly the apartment occupied by a couple of Gable's friends in the movie. The bedroom is typical. One door is taller than the other as if the shorter door had been an afterthought when a town house was cut into apartments. The room is small with a window overlooking a court and at atmospheric touch is the bedstead which does not fit into the wall space but covers part of the window.

'Design for Scandal' Showing at Cadet

"Screen-love-making is packed full of all kinds of details and complications that never bother a romantic pair in real life," says Rosalind Russell.

"When Walter Pidgeon and I went into our clutches for 'Design for Scandal,' now at the Cadet Theatre, we had the usual privacy of a goldfish, what with 40 electricians and studio hands on the set.

"Furthermore, there was no necessity for Director Norman Taurog to tell us to make the scene 'hot.' When you go into a love scene under these studio lights, the temperature seems like 110!"

Mature in Role Of Arab Mystic

Safely hidden from the stares of the curious beneath three layers of an Arab costume, Victor Mature can at last breathe with ease—he won't have to show his chest or his legs.

Mature, as every young lady knows, has the most famous torso in show business, and someone, with a cruel tongue, said he had a beautiful "hunk of body." That sort of thing isn't nice, Mature doesn't see why a good physique

'TRIPOLI' COMES TO RIO SCREEN

The smashing story of the U.S. Marine Corps and what it takes to turn out a fighting "leatherneck" has been brilliantly brought to the screen in 20th Century-Fox's technicolor epic, "To the Shores of Tripoli," which opens at the Rio Theatre today.

The Darryl F. Zanuck production is a credit to those men who fought their way to glorious posterity at Wake Island.

'The Baker's Wife' At 2 Theatres

Despite the fact that Marcel Pagnol, director of "The Baker's Wife," which starts today at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, constructed one of the most modern studios in all of France in Marseilles, most of his films consist principally of exteriors. Ninety per cent of the action in "The Baker's Wife" takes place out of doors, in the sunlight of France's provincial country, which is right on the outskirts of the Pagnol studios.

Director Pagnol is an inveterate believer in producing pictures against authentic backgrounds. The village in "The Baker's Wife" is an actual village. The only sets that were constructed were the interiors, and they were modeled after actual interiors in the village. Having been born and reared in Provence, Pagnol was deeply imbued with the country and it has served as a background for most of his films. This series of Provencal films, of which "The Baker's Wife" is the most recent and the most popular, necessitated almost continual outdoors shooting and for this contingency Pagnol was well prepared.

Drake Would Be Proud Of Young Men of R.C.N.

BY ALAN RANDAL
A PORT IN NORTHERN IRELAND (CP)—There is stuff in the young men of the Royal Canadian Navy that would make Drake and Nelson proud.

It is a quiet courage that defies danger when the little ships guarding north Atlantic convoys go into action. These young men don't consider themselves heroes. They're just doing a job and they tell their story simply.

They are men like Lieut. D. G. King of Vancouver, now skipper of a corvette, Sub-Lt. Douglas Trenholme of Amherst, N.S., both from the volunteer reserve.

"So we went over the side on a line to pull them (survivors) in. No, you don't seem to get time to feel the cold much."

Just as simply as that young Trenholme described a night of action and high seas when he and King, then first officer of the corvette, clambered down into the sea to effect a rescue of seamen from a ship.

HEARD MEN SHOUTING

On this particular night, at the height of Nazi submarine action, they could hear survivors shouting as they swam in lifeboats. Then they saw them alongside and there was only one thing to do—go get them.

A job like that is just for volunteers. The trouble is to hold the volunteers back—there are so many of them.

Lieut. King told of the rescue of men of H.M.C.S. Ottawa and of two cool-headed gems with courage to burn—Abie Seaman Frank Wedmark and Leading Seaman Keith Kraeling, both of Winnipeg and buddies aboard the Ottawa.

They are leading figures in a story of rescue at sea in the blackness of the choppy night in the north Atlantic when the Ottawa went down, under U-boat torpedo fire and Wedmark spent five hours in the water.

From the bridge of his corvette Lieut. King could hear somebody shouting "Help, help," and in the light of his torch he could see a figure swimming.

"We tossed him a lifebelt, but the line broke as we were pulling him up," said Lieut. King. "He fell astern of us and we hollered to him to keep yelling; that we'd but a boat down and try to locate him."

Then they called for volunteers to man the boat and the crew set off in the darkness, following Wedmark's shouts. They got to him and as the small boat's captain leaned out to help the swimming Winnipegger he was greeted with a holler: "Jeepers, Wedmark, you old—"

But in the ship's guest book Wedmark wrote, "The best of luck and thanks a million."

In Kraeling's boat crew were AB, Ed. Massey of Montreal, AB, Murray Clayton of Winnipeg, L.S. Ed. Carter of Victoria and AB, Smeaton Newman of Montreal.

Kraeling is the ship's gun captain. Massey is in charge of the aircraft guns, Clayton, Carter and Newman are all top men.

Just to add to Kraeling's difficulties the boat's rudder broke soon after they left the corvette and they could steer only by an old oar.

Kraeling, a kid of 22, who "prospected" in northern Manitoba before he joined the navy in March, 1939, said the sea was choppy.

"Seemed for a time maybe we'd need to be rescued our selves," he added. "We couldn't see 'Wed,' but we could hear him and it was sure good to pull him aboard."

4 Lost When Ship Torpedoed

LONDON (AP)—All survivors of a steamship torpedoed in the Atlantic arrived recently in Britain, their original destination, it was learned today.

The shipowners declined to give names and addresses of the survivors, but said they believed some North and South Americans were aboard the vessel. One passenger and three crew members were lost.

The survivors arrived unnoticed at a British port and dispersed to their homes.

U.S. Navy Will Use Mars as Cargo Plane

BALTIMORE (AP)—The huge Martin Mars, designed as a mighty battleship of the air, is being converted into a cargo transport for the United States Navy, Glenn L. Martin announced today.

The Mars has finished her flight tests and has proved herself a highly efficient airplane.

Ships like the Mars can be built in quantity to serve either as combat planes or cargo carriers, and if built especially for cargo carrying would have greater gross weight than the 140,000 pounds of the Mars as a patrol bomber, Martin added.

Given Shore Job

Rear Admiral Harold Baillie-Grohman, who was born in Victoria in 1888, the son of the late W. A. Baillie-Grohman, Kootenay pioneer, author and sportsman, was among a group of flag officers who will be given shore appointments, the British Admiralty announced Saturday.

Admiral Baillie-Grohman commanded the battleship Ramilies in 1939-40 in the Mediterranean and earlier served as captain of the first destroyer flotilla in the Mediterranean and headed a naval mission to China.

He entered H.M.S. Britannia as naval cadet in 1903, and served with distinction in the first Great War.

Herring Fishermen And Cannery Agree

VANCOUVER—Herring fishermen of the United Fishermen's Federal Union have accepted a revised cannery's offer of $5 a ton for carrying purposes and $4.50 per ton for reduction fish for this season, thus averting a threatened tieup of the herring fleet. Fishermen had previously asked a straight $6 a ton and cannery had offered $4 and $4.75.

Sub Toll Last Week 8 Ships; 49 Perish

By Associated Press
At least 49 seamen perished in Axis submarine attacks against eight United Nations merchant vessels in western Atlantic waters, announcements last week revealed, but more than 225 others were rescued and safely landed at Allied ports. Four men were reported missing.

Destruction of seven cargo carriers off the northern coast of South America, the highest number of reported submarine victims for that area for a seven-day period in more than two months, appeared to signal a new burst of U-boat activity in that sector.

However, reports from Mexico Sunday announced opening of a new, submarine-proof route between North American and Central America with completion of a half-mile bridge spanning the Suchiate River on the Mexico-Guatemala border.

Slide Wrecks Train

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CP)—Two members of the train crew suffered minor injuries early today when an eastbound Canadian Pacific Railway freight train was derailed 81 miles west of White River. The locomotive and 12 cars left the track when the train ran into a rock slide.

Fireman Edward Singleton and Trainman W. Barr, both of Schreiber, were injured slightly. Engineer P. Sully of Schreiber was unhurt.

The line will not be cleared for normal traffic until 7 p.m. Several transcontinental passenger trains were delayed.

Says Praise Due R.A.F. For Enlisting Canadian

A. Richards, 1059 Oliver Street, thinks the R.A.F. should be congratulated for giving P.O. George "Buzzy" Beurling, D.S.O., D.F.C., D.F.M. and Bar, of Verdun, Que., an opportunity which Canada denied him.

This 20-year-old Spitfire pilot, who was refused admittance in the R.C.A.F. as a pilot because he did not have the necessary education qualifications, has shot down 29 Axis planes, shared in the shooting down of one other, has two probables and six damaged.

Beurling, now at Malta, shot down four Axis planes in a single afternoon.

LONDON (CP)—Platform farewells now are being "rationed" at London's main line railway stations. At rush hours station authorities are cancelling platform tickets to make room for real passengers.

About 4,500,000 U.S. women are in industrial war employment now as compared with 1,400,000 in 1941.

300 Blood Bank donors wanted. B 2414.
